CRASH THE DOLLAR

How To Crash The Dollar

Crash the dollar? It's simple - if you are a money-changer.

Take a US dollar to the bank's money-changer to exchange for another country's money and you will be given only 95¢. They pocket 5% for their trouble.

Bring them back the 95¢ converted into someone else's money and they will give you only US 90¢ in exchange. They take 5% coming and 5% going without effort or risk. That's the way it is done. They do it every day.

Not only that, they determine what the US dollar is worth every day. If they want the US dollar to be worth 1.10 foreign, that's the price they set for the exchange. If they like, they can exchange it at 1.15 the next day and 1.20 the day after. The dollar's value drops lower and lower and there's not a thing you can do about it.

When the dollar goes up, billions are made by currency traders. They buy money contracts. They know from their friends whether the banks are forcing the dollar up or down. With scores of top level management in the know and hundreds of money-changers, this kind of information always leaks to the select few. Industries can be made rich as the dollar drops. They underprice foreign competition. It's great if you have information from the money-changers. You know what to buy or sell. The same industries may be forced to close down and lay off millions of workers when the dollar goes up and foreigners underprice them in turn.

The international bankers have a monopoly on the creation of money. They have a monopoly on money-changing. They have a monopoly on determining money's worth. They can make the value of money rise - they can make it fall. Their profit is all important. The well-being of the nation is not a consideration.

Germany Stops 1920s Inflation

The Versailles treaty forced Germany to borrow money into existence from the international bankers to pay tribute.

The money-changers dropped the value of the mark each time they exchanged dollars, pounds, or francs for German marks. Inflation went wild in Germany. The middle class was wiped out.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht was appointed head of German finance. He stopped inflation in a single day by issuing a simple directive. The directive said that all money exchange was to take place across his desk; four marks to a dollar.

The international bankers howled, the newspapers and the politicians threatened. Governments convened emergency committees. Four to the dollar. That's what he said it was going to be and that's the way it was. Schacht didn't budge. Inflation was over. Four to the dollar.

It's really this simple. Of course, it forced the international banks to rally the whole world to go to war against Schacht's Germany to get his rule changed. However, it showed that a government can regulate its own currency in spite of the banks. It's really this simple.

International Bankers Strip America

Not long ago bank money-changers raised the value of the dollar. American industry was priced out of the world markets. Plants closed.

Banks control America's corporations through voting stock held in their trust departments. They voted to close America's factories and build others in foreign lands.

American owned plants were built all over the 3rd world. The third world now possesses much of America's industrial might. Strangers now hold jobs belonging to Americans.

War By Dollar Manipulation

Next, the 3rd world currencies were attached to the American dollar. When the dollar falls their currencies fall at the same time. When the dollar rises their currencies also rise.

No rise or fall of the American dollar can hurt the 3rd world nations. Possessing America's former industries - fewer 3rd world nations fail to pay their debts to the international banks. The banks profit. Our people lose their jobs.

Europe's currencies have NOT been attached to the dollar. A fall in the dollar forces a trade war between America and her kinsmen in Europe.

A dropping dollar can underprice Europe's products and cause their industry to bankrupt - or cause them to also move to the 3rd world nations. Either way it is Westerners who lose. It is Westerners who are unemployed.

In time, it is possible for the banks to manipulate ALL major industry from the shores of both the US and Europe.

The results would be drastic. The population would have to decline so that those remaining could be fed. The lands themselves turned over to a reduced number of farmers and flocks of sheep. This is what was done to Spain and Portugal by the international bankers. This is the end result of what the same money-changers are doing to us today.

Capturing Farm Trade

The banks instructed the US government to pay dairy-men to destroy their herds and pay farmers to retire their acres from production.

The drop in production was immediately filled with exports from the 3rd world. When the dairymen and farmers once again try to re-enter the market they will find the market expropriated.

This new income for the 3rd world helps pay debts to the international banks.

Usury Cycle's End

The Usury System allows only three ways for money to come into existence.

- 1) individuals borrow money into existence,

- 2) corporations borrow money into existence,
- 3) governments borrow money into existence.

At the bottom of a depression only a government dares to borrow. Even it can only justify borrowing at such times by arming and fighting a "defensive" war.

Next comes inflation. Then the break in prices. The decline. And it starts all over again.

It does not have to happen this way. The system of usury is outside of God's law and will be contained now or later. It cannot continue. It will die or we will die.

If the past repeats, the time is fast approaching when money will once more disappear. Scrip will re-appear. It will be issued either by the national government, states, counties, cities, or individuals. Perhaps by all at the same time.

Scrip is the exact opposite of a bank note. It will do away with the need for wars to get us out of depressions. It will do away with the booms and busts that result in depressions. It will do away with depressions.

Hjalmar Schacht proved that we can stop the irresponsible usury bankers and their money tampering that results in booms and busts.

The 1930s presented us with the example of an outpouring of debtless scrip from everywhere. We know from our history books that the price of bread remained the same for over three centuries in the Hanseatic League. We know further that instead of being something new, our ancestors lived with tally-scrip instead of the banknote for almost 1000 years.

It is time for America to awake and obey her Constitution which requires our government to issue money and set the value thereof.

The alternative will be drastic.

SEED

Issue #134, November 1985, reported that certain scientists believe that the weather is changing.

They believe this will result in a changing climate with heat and drouth claiming large areas. Cold is expected to claim large areas of tillable land in Canada, the northern US, and the Soviet Union - and heat to claim large areas of Africa, Mexico, and the American SW. The result - a general food shortage. The time frame given was less than 10 years. The outbreak of large forest fires in summer is to be one of the signals that the transition is underway.

In the 1930s most things couldn't be bought because for a period there was no money. It took time to issue scrip.

Farmers planted seed they had held back from previous harvests. Today this cannot be done. The seed is hybrid. It will not reproduce. A farmer cannot hold back part of his harvest for seed.

Recognizing what may be an approaching disaster, a number of sources offering non-hybrid seed have come into being. It may be that the time will come when people will offer gold for non- hybrid seed - weight for weight. A few hundred dollars invested in non-hybrid seed may be the best investment your family has made in several generations. Frankly, what are a few hundred dollars in your budget?

Listed below are some of the addresses that carry non-hybrid seed. As a rule, the source closest to where you live will produce best for you.

CRASH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Do you believe that a crash marks the beginning of the end of the rule of Babylon." M. A. - Kentucky

ED: No indeed. The establishment triggered the crash as part of their on-going plan to take over other people's property. The crash is a standard part of their plan. The establishment is not hurt when they alone have money and almost everyone else must come to them hat in hand.

USURY FORMULA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: It's simple to prove that usury is unworkable. D (debt) = M (money). $1D = 1M$. They are equal. However, if the borrower and lender agree that $1D(\text{debt}) + .1D(\text{interest}) = 1M$ (money), there is a problem. This is saying that 1.1 principal and interest = 1 money. It doesn't. It is unequal. How can the economy stay equal when the money is unequal. No wonder there are crashes." A.J. - Kansas

US & USSR MERGED: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Do you believe that the US and the USSR will be merged?" A.Z. - Arizona

ED: Think of the US and the USSR as football teams. Each player a front-page superstar. The quarterback is president. He gets top billing but calls only 5% of the plays. The invisible coach is the Federal Reserve in the US and the Gosbank in the USSR. They call 90% of the plays. Above even the coaches is the one owner who owns both teams and others too. If any of his teams gets out of line he can call his other teams in to beat up on the wayward team. He calls only 5% of the plays, but when he speaks there is no appeal. There is no reason for him to merge his teams. He already owns the system. If he merged the teams he would ruin everything. Who is the owner? He (they) is the biggest creditor(s) of all. "The borrower is slave to the lender".

HYBRID SEED: "Dear Richard: I have long been aware of the danger of hybrid seed not being available. As a safety measure I keep a large garden to provide non-hybrid seed for an emergency. There are not many doing this, I fear."

IRELAND: "Dick; Just visited Ireland. Two things stand out. Banks and grinding poverty. They seem to go together."

DEPRESSION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: No checks were allowed during 1930s depression bank closings. I had to order a payroll for 50 people consisting of an exact number of different bills and an exact amount of change down to the last penny. When it arrived I had to divide it into exact amounts and put it in individual envelopes with none left over. Let's see today's public school graduates do that!"

Chapter 161

THE CLOAK Of NIMROD

There was once a cloak. It was made by God to clothe Adam.

It descended to Noah who bequeathed it to Shem. Noah's outcast son, Ham, stole the cloak. His son, Caanon, received it from him. In time it fell into the hands of Nimrod.

This was not an ordinary cloak. It possessed special powers. It allowed the one who owned it to capture men's minds.

Using the cloak, Nimrod became ruler of many nations and many peoples.

One day Nimrod went for a stroll in the cool of the evening. Two guards were with him. Essau saw Nimrod approaching. He hid himself, and waited in ambush.¹

Essau sprang from concealment and with his sword slew all three. Seizing the cloak from Nimrod's lifeless body, Essau fled. Nimrod's followers followed hot on his heels.

Essau arrived in the camp of Isaac, his father, frightened, weary, and despairing of his life. He demanded that his brother Jacob trade his meal to him in exchange for the birthright due him as the eldest son. His birthright was of little value if he were killed before the sun set. He kept the cloak.

The Cloak

Nimrod's cloak is now owned by Essau's descendants. They have taught not only their own people but their servants its secret. Whoever possesses it is able to rule peoples and nations without their being aware. Their eyes become blind. When in its power, lies can be told for truth, and sawdust given for treasure.

Andrew Jackson

Andrew Jackson protested bitterly when the 2nd Bank of the United States used its ability to create money to bankroll the purchase of newspapers. He protested bitterly when bank newspapers told lies about him. He protested bitterly when the bank used its power to raise interest rates and trigger panics. He protested that resulting depressions were used to bankrupt enemies of the bank while enriching bank friends. He swore to ruin the bank, and he did.

1 Most of this story can be found in the book of Jasher.

Jackson's actions caused the 2nd Bank of the US to bankrupt on Oct. 11, 1841. It was then discovered that most of the stockholders of this powerful bank resided in Britain. The most powerful bank in America was an alien entity.

The downfall of this bank slowed the spread of Essau's cloak over America. It did not stop it as long as individual usury banks retained the use of usury. Its power remained and it elected the banks' great supporter, Abraham Lincoln, President of the US.

A usury bank-man, ruling as president, brought about the bloody War Between the States. This destroyed the last enemy of the usury banking system in America, the independent debt-free plantation system of the South.

In 1913 the Federal Reserve was created. This gave the big banks control over the little banks. It united most of the nation's usury banks into one entity. They now act in unison. One of the sponsors of FR Bill was Sen. Carter Glass. His offices were less than two blocks from where these lines are being written.

The Scenario

The law clearly states:

Thou shalt not lend upon usury (with interest upon a loan) to thy brother; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of anything that is lent upon usury: Unto a stranger (Heb:zûwr - racial alien) thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deut 23:19,20

It is clear. We are forbidden to lend at usury to our own. We are permitted to lend at usury to the stranger.

Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) Math 17:25-26.

If "custom", "tribute", "taxes", are to be taken only from strangers, why then are we taxed?

It's simple. To those who rule - WE are the strangers.

Who then is ruler? It is he that is NOT taxed.

"Federal Reserve Banks, including the capital stock and surplus therein and the income derived therefrom, shall be exempt from federal, state, and local taxation ..." ("except from real estate.") Cross Sections, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Vol 3, Number 2, 701 E. Byrd Street, Richmond, Va. Summer 1986.

Tribute

The refusal of Americans to obey God's law has reduced them to slavery.

Anti-Christ ministers, in the pay of the enemy, tell foolish people that God's law has been done away with. That there is no law.

No longer protected by the law, it was easy to add tribute to usury. Tribute is called "income tax". The name was meant to mislead.

Trust

Inheritance taxes were added to income taxes. Trusts were promoted to avoid taxes. Banks established trust departments to administer trusts to cut down taxes. Most trust assets consist of corporate stocks.

To collect dividends and stock splits, banks insist that stock certificates be registered in the bank name. Stocks registered in the bank name allow the banks to vote for and elect directors of American corporations.

Almost half the stock of American corporations is held in trust. More than half of the directors of American corporations are elected by banks. Bank controlled corporate directors thus control a large, if not the largest, part of corporate America. It is they who determine how corporate money is to be spent.

Capture Of Corporate America

Following the establishment of the Federal Reserve, American corporations borrowed hundreds of billions of dollars from the banks to expand. As a result, most American corporations are now heavily in debt.

During a depression, most corporations find it difficult to pay bank debts. Statute law says that defaulters must bankrupt. Those holding the mortgages may legally foreclose. The banks hold the mortgages. Bank stockholders can become wealthy by American corporations going bankrupt. America's corporations, their directors elected by banks, can be turned over to the banks and their owners by the same bank appointed corporate directors who put them into debt. It's like shooting fish in a barrel.

Usury is the method banks use to transfer the assets of the trust in their care to the stockholders who run the banks.

This is why only left wing colleges supporting left wing causes are given grants by American corporations. Their directors tell them to do it.

This is why the corporate media gives only one viewpoint. Their bank elected directors tell them to do it. No word of criticism against Essau's cloak of usury is allowed in the media. Bank elected directors will not allow it.

Cloak Of Esau

The cloak of Essau is interest. One is permitted to use interest ONLY according to law.

The law states:

"Thou shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother ... Unto a stranger (Heb. zûwr - racial alien) thou mayest lend upon usury." Deut 23:19,20

Usury - A Christian Weapon

May a Christian use USURY? Of course. He is required to fight against the enemies of God. The law requires it. While usury cannot be used against one's brothers, it is to be used against the stranger and his agents. It is the ultimate weapon.

"They shall not dwell in thy land; and thou shall drive them out before thee." Ex 23:31-33; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24

The use of usury against the stranger will in time make it so uncomfortable that he will leave. The scripture says that if he lives among us HE WILL rise above us.

"The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low ... he shall be the head and thou shalt be the tail." Deu 28:43

Usury can be used against the following:

Banks - OWNED or CONTROLLED by strangers. Banks use deposits to satisfy bank regulations, not to lend. Money that banks lend is created by them from thin air. They don't lend your money on deposit with them

Municipal bonds - Municipalities are usually heavily in debt to international banks. "The borrower is servant". Most cities are servant/agents of the stranger. To lend to an agent is the same as lending to his master.

State bonds - Most states are heavily in debt to the international banks. Their bonds can be bought for the reasons listed above.

Government bonds - Nations in debt to the international banks are their servants.

Church bonds - A church allowing bonds to be issued in its name in violation of the law is evidence that that church does not obey God's law. "If you love me obey my commandments." Buying its bonds may help put an end to its unlawful acts.

Risk Factor

While recognizing the lawfulness of certain usury loans, it is well to remember that the lawless usually prey on each other. Their usury instruments are often two edged swords. Unless the usury instrument is designed by yourself they are often fraught with risk to the unwary.

Exceptions

Interest loans are not permitted to kinsmen. Most small businesses fall in this category. Joint venture can be used to finance kinsmen. Joint venture presents risk for both parties, as it should be to be fair.

Conclusion

The Cloak of Essau exists. Because of false priests it has long remained a tightly kept secret. It is no longer a secret.

As a weapon it rightly belongs to those to whom it was bequeathed, and who will use it lawfully.

LETTERS

SCRIPT: "Dear Dick: The city of Milwaukee issued scrip from 1932 till as late as 1938. It's a shame they didn't continue doing it." M. A. - Wisconsin

T-BILLS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The people I know do not have $10,000 to buy treasury bills. Do you have a suggestion for those of smaller means?" D. J. - Illinois

ED: Contact your stock broker. Ask him if he has a short term government money market fund where you can put money in or take money out any time you want with no penalty. He does. Most require one or two thousand dollars to get started.

FASCIST: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What does a fascist believe?" A. M. - Maryland

ED: The stereotype fascist is a combination of parades, Mussolini, stiff arm salute, dictatorship, etc. This has nothing to do with belief. Simply, most fascists believe that power should be taken from banks and given to government. The government can be a dictatorship, democracy, or whatever. Some "anti-fascists" call Andrew Jackson a fascist.

ALLERGIC REACTION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You may be interested to know that a substantial percentage of cases entering the hospital here suffer from allergic reaction to shell fish. In these cases the body often responds by shutting down breathing. We would lose a substantial part of our business if people obeyed the Biblical prohibition in Lev. 11:10-12 against eating shellfish." E. G. - Virginia

ADULTERATED SEEDS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: There is very little difference between MIXING and ADULTERY. What seeds do you plant? Are they hybrids? HYBRID is a nice word for ADULTERATED. Those who depend on anything adulterated may pay for it with their lives. Lev. 19:19, Deut 7." M. C. - S. Carolina

TAXES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Is there any place where there are no taxes which consume your substance and take away initiative. The huge capital gains tax is so unfair under the new tax law." A. R. - Georgia

ED: The income tax was practically non-existent before the establishment of the FR in 1913. The name "income tax" itself is a cloak. The income tax is in fact - "tribute".

The property tax is also tribute. More land is lost through non-payment of taxes than by any other means. As the usury system permeates America real estate taxes have soared. This separates people from their God-given security - their land.

Capital gains taxes and inheritance taxes do the same. Both are designed to trap and separate people from their property.

Such thing as tax free? Yes indeed, but it's highly unlikely that we can get a piece of it. Tax free foundations have many billions and hand out many hundreds of millions. They make tax free $1.3 million grants to "deserving" people who have won grants by drawing pictures of doubtful merit or writing stories considered worthless by some. These grants can include $250,000 tax free a year for 6 years. It's done.

Each of us knows wealthy people who do nothing, work at nothing, have no visible means of support, have no verifiable history of where their wealth came from.

What do they do with their time? Some are everyday drones who stumbled on a good thing. Others aren't. They work. They are friendly - but distant. They talk your interests. They are conservative - if you are. They watch. They attend. They make a one time visit. They ask questions. The ones I've known are tight fisted. They are generous only to gain good will. They contribute little except suggestions. They could do lots - but don't. At the end of two years you know little not known in the first 10 minutes.

They earn their pay. Instant wealth makes them important. One million dollars to them is the same as one thousand to you. Almost every county has at least one. Congressional districts have dozens. They contribute to political candidates. The politicians keep their doors open to them. They watch politicians and the people of America's conquered provinces. They make possible our captivity.

ACCIDENT WITH A .22

Two weeks ago my 17 year old daughter had a mis-adventure with a .22 pistol. It went off while she was handling it.

The bullet passed through her lung, knocked a hole in her liver (a real bleeder) the size of a 50 cent piece, hit a rib and bounced back through the lower side of her liver and collapsed her diaphragm.

Fortunately, her mother was near by and called for help. An ambulance was present in 6 minutes.

This happened at 4 p.m. Emergency blood transfusions were given in the emergency room to keep her alive. Inflating the collapsed lung, patching the diaphragm, and stopping the bleeding was done by the attending surgeon within an hour and a half.

The bleeding still continued. She continued to receive blood. Another operation was performed which located the hidden second wound in the lower part of the liver. This too was repaired. Time 10 p.m. The surgeon announced that he thought she stood a 50/50 chance. All together - she received 16 pints.

Two weeks in intensive care. Two weeks in a hospital room. Cost - much in excess of $50,000. Luckily I have hospitalization which covers a large part.

All my children are expert with firearms. This is the first child of six to break the house rule forbidding handling a firearm without need. The punishment was severe. Hopefully, the lesson was learned.

In past articles I have mentioned that a .22 cal. bullet can kill, but not stop a person. This accident reinforces that observation. It also reinforces the observation that anyone who thinks the .22 cal. bullet is harmless is foolish.

In regards to the blood transfusions. Our family is large. There were many available donors present, and more potential donors arrived from out of town.

It is understandable that my daughter received blood from the blood-bank as an emergency life saving measure. This was done before I reached the hospital.

However, after signing the usual hospital liability release form allowing the doctor to use his judgment without fear of being sued, he continued to use blood from the blood bank and brushed off my protests as being "false worries". I was never informed that blood was to be given until after the event.

When questioned on this point no satisfactory answer was ever given. It seemed that they were determined to use their own blood bank in spite of all.

Later, a nurse was questioned about AIDS in the hospital. She replied that they didn't talk about AIDS in the hospital. When asked why, she replied that "people might stop coming to the hospital". Those were her words. She WOULD NOT talk about AIDS in the hospital. It seems that there may be a rule in the medical profession against discussing AIDS with patients or their families. This may be the means the medical profession is using to keep an AIDS panic from developing. The hospital staff acts as though AIDS does not exist.

It is a fact that my daughter was given blood from the available blood bank in preference to blood from ready and willing donors.

My daughter is expected home in a few days.

THURSDAY: Last night the surgeon informed me that my daughter would not be going home soon. Another operation on the liver is needed.

A nurse later asked me to sign another release form. I stated that from now on no blood was to be given except from family members. When the nurse saw I was serious she left to get her supervisor.

Soon, there were several people gathered in my daughter's room. The surgeon protested that if my daughter was to catch AIDS from infected blood-bank blood "the cow was already out of the barn" since she had already received 16 pints. I stated that the 17th pint might be "the" pint.

He said that the hospital used blood from their blood bank because it was already tested for hepatitis and AIDS, and that they were not set up to do these tests or to make person to person transfusions.

My father was a surgeon in Lynchburg. Forty years ago he would bring a family member in, type his blood, and get started on a transfusion in 10 minutes. In this case, there were 4 family members with the same blood type as my daughter within 45 minutes of the hospital. A saline solution could be given until then. The doctor stated that that is how blood diseases were transmitted.

The doctor may have been on a spot. He had stated that an operation was necessary. I had agreed. I had also agreed to blood transfusions - but only from family members. If the doctor refused to perform the operation and something happened to my daughter, it would seem that he would be liable. I felt sure he would agree. Later that night I was allowed to sign a release form that included "Blood is to be given only from family members."

THURSDAY AFTERNOON: My daughter hasn't had water in 24 hours, almost no food in 2 days, and I have just learned that the surgeon mentioned above spoke for himself, only. He wasn't scheduled to do the operation. Another doctor canceled the operation when he learned of my insistence that family blood be given. There is much more to this than meets the eye. I'll report to you next time.

In the case of my daughter. She's a fighter. With the help of God she will recover. In any case - God's will be done.

Chapter 162

THE COVENANTERS

Commandment #1 - "Love God".

Definition of "Love". - "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15

Definition of "God" - "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1,14

The Laws, Statutes, and Judgments were with God, were of God, and were God.

Scotland

In early days disenchanted Catholic priests met. They protested violations of God's Laws then rampant. They vowed to obey God's word since the WORD was God. The Bible alone determined the WORD. Local groups of Christians met and elected their own leaders called "presbyters".

England's king was head of the Church of England. He selected his own priests who taught whatever he wanted taught. This form of church government was called an "episcopacy". The king said it was his "divine right" to do this.

The presbyterian system (from the bottom up) of Scotland, using the Bible alone, found itself in opposition to the episcopal system (from the top down) of the English king.

Covenanters

James VI of Scotland was a Covenanter. He covenanted with God and his Scottish kinsmen to obey only The WORD taken directly from the Bible and not the dictates of the episcopacy. England chose him to be her king. He became James I of England.

As King of England he was automatically the head of the Church of England. The Church of England owned 1/3 of the land of England and more than 1/2 her wealth. Poor James VI of Scotland became rich James I of England.

The price was right. He renounced the covenant and his oath to The WORD. As head of the Anglican Episcopal Church episcopacy he was God's spokesman, ordained to tell Britons what to believe.

He appointed church leaders and sent them to replace presbyters elected by church congregations in Scotland. Instruction directly from the Bible was replaced with instruction from the king's own approved prayer book. Scotland began to bristle. Another Stuart, Charles I, determined at all costs to make Scotland bow to the demands of his episcopal system.

The storm broke in 1637. During services in St. Giles Cathedral in Edinburgh, Jenny Geddes picked up a stool and threw it at the minister's head for reading a prayer book instead of God's Law directly from the Bible.

A meeting followed at Grey Friar's Church. Hundreds upon hundreds were present. Hundreds more arrived hourly. It spilled out into the churchyard. Law violations were listed. Each of those affixed his name to a mutual Covenant swearing to God and each other that they would obey only God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments - and nothing else. This was the National Covenant of 1638.

When no space was left on the document for another name, copies were made and distributed. Ladies set up tables in village streets. Lines patiently waited to sign.

Scotland signed a covenant with God and each other. The world watched in awe.

Much was at stake. Charles I had to insist on his claim to be head of the Episcopal Church to claim its wealth. Without it he was dependent upon Parliament for his daily bread.

England's Parliament and the people it represented were alienated by the all-powerful king who claimed such a large part of the nation's land and wealth and also claimed that he spoke for God.

Frightened, they united with the people of Scotland in a Solemn League and Covenant. This international covenant was like the others before. It too was a covenant to obey The WORD - God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, and them alone.

Civil War

In 1642 civil war broke out. The king was defeated.

Highpoint

The downfall of the king's episcopacy and the supremacy of the presbytery system marked the high point of the Covenanters. Covenanters now included practically all the people of Scotland and most of England. They also included numerous English and Irish Catholics.

During this period the civil law system was reformed. Murder, rape, and false weights and balances received Biblical punishment. The Law was the same everywhere and was often dispensed directly from the Bible. Exceptions found in statute law which had been designed to favor special interests were corrected. There was only God's law.

Enter The Puritan

Parliament's military leader was Oliver Cromwell, a military genius. The name "Puritan" from this time no longer meant "to purify". It meant something more sinister.

Oliver Cromwell created consternation. "Cromwell ... was opposed root and branch to Presbyterianism as a narrow and oppressive formalism; and he long delayed to sign the Covenant."

He could be on all sides of any question. He renounced the Covenant as easily as he had sworn to obey it. Through 1647 he negotiated for a settlement with the episcopacy of the king. In 1648 he reversed himself and denounced the king in Parliament. Then he did what David feared to do to Saul. He beheaded the king. He supported neither the covenant nor the claims of the episcopacy. He was all things. He was a Puritan.²

The Puritans recognized few restrictions to their power. Quoting scripture and profanity in the same breath, they ran roughshod over traditional rights. God's Law had been done away. There was no Law and they could be bound by none. They quoted scripture to prove it. "The WORD" was what they said it was. "Grace" allowed them to do as they liked. They recognized no covenant. They did as they liked.

Reaction

England and Scotland awoke to a nightmare. It was the same thing with another name as the dread "anabaptist plague" that had afflicted the continent.

The former enemy, the king, his forces, and the episcopacy he represented were defeated. But the victor, parliament's own army, was in the hands of one they considered an anti-Christ, one who had overnight repudiated the covenant and everything it stood for.

Frantically, the covenanters of England and Scotland recruited new armies to subdue this evil in their midst.

Nothing availed. Cromwell's New Model army, honed to razor keenness on a hundred battlefields, marched from victory to victory, and from massacre to massacre.

To fight against Cromwell was death. To surrender to him was death. To side with the covenanters was death. The crimes of his Puritans were many.

2 "Cromwell, in filling his regiments with zealous soldiers, refused to take account of their religions and dogmas ..." ibid. p80. The occasional covenanter was welcome, but while following God's law he must not insist that others obey it also.

He replaced Parliament with his own creatures. Without compensation he confiscated the lands of his one time friends, declared them enemies, and gave their lands to his followers. He killed thousands of Christians surrendered to his armies. His armies looted cities, killed his opponents with their wives and children. Ships were loaded with tens of thousands of his captives to be sold into slavery in Virginia and elsewhere. In the 1650s, against public outcry, he opened England's gates to international bankers, thereby infecting England with their usury for the first time in almost 400 years.

Puritans were the monied aristocrats of England possessing the lands, wealth, and titles of those they had dispossessed. Only a few hundred, at the most a few thousand, ever came to America to live among those whom they had defrauded. The few who did were coolly received. In the 1600s, the name "damn Yankee" was forged in America to describe their sharp practices. "Yankee" was a New Englander. "Damn Yankee" was a Puritan. There's a difference.

Cromwell, their leader, lived as an unchallenged despot until he died.

The Killing Times

The Puritans, who inherited land and estates from Cromwell, restored Charles II in 1660. To satisfy the people, Cromwell's judges were executed for sentencing Charles I to be beheaded, but the rest of the Puritans kept their ill gotten wealth. They stood solidly behind the king, and to keep his throne the king supported them.

The common enemy was the covenanter who would deny the Puritan his newly acquired lands and the King his newly acquired episcopacy. This marked the beginning of the Covenanter Period proper.

A Puritan Parliament shortly restored royal supremacy in matters of religion which allowed the king to keep church lands and wealth. The power of the king to choose his own church leaders was restored in full strength and vigor. Hundreds of elected presbyter ministers were turned out of their parishes. The king reciprocated by confirming the Puritan's land ownership. Then the National Covenant of 1638 and the Solemn League and Covenant of 1643 were condemned as HIGH TREASON.

Covenanters who refused to renounce their covenant with God were mercilessly hunted by dragoons. Those who qualified their submission by distinguishing between Church and State or if they declined to give their opinion were automatically guilty of treason.

"Many, loyal to the king, were executed because they refused to say 'God save the King' and give to man the honour due to the Lord's Anointed. Its use was tantamount to confessing that the King was supreme earthly ruler in the Church of God. The Covenanters chose death rather than life when impaled on the horns of this dreadful dilemma."³

Thousands were executed. Most executions took place on the spot. They ranged from dragoon ambushed church meetings held in the deep woods where all were killed, to the never-ending monotonous single executions of individual farmers; church meetings; held in deep woods

3 Fair Sunshine, Jock Purvis, Edinburgh 1957.

A refusal to renounce was punished by a shot in the head in front of wife and children. Hundreds were dragged on rope ends to be beheaded by axmen in Edinburgh. Scores were hanged, drawn, and quartered.

Thousands died from torture, sickness, and starvation in prison. Tens of thousands had their lands confiscated. They too were shipped to Virginia and other colonies. There is hardly a pair of eyes reading these lines that doesn't count a dozen covenanters among his ancestors.

The Killing Times bred martyrs. For each execution ten more covenanters stepped forward.

After 25 years the slaughter gradually stopped. It was economically unprofitable. The lands of most wealthy covenanters were already taken. Continued killing and deportation was leaving no one to work the land. Those who were left had nothing worth confiscating. To this day most confiscated Scots live in cities. Few own land in their own country.

Virginia

Virginia, the mother of states, profited mightily from the persecutions. She is peopled by layer upon layer of covenanters. They came from all classes. Most arrived as slaves. Most lost everything in the service of their God, and their God blessed them for it.

Added were thousands of French Huguenots who underwent the same trials and who also lost all their worldly possessions.

To these were joined the "Valley Germans" who left their homes and country rather than violate The WORD by being inducted into armies and forced to kill kinsmen.

From Virginia across America they have spread. The descendants of Covenanters sworn to obey to the death the commands of God. They know their own.

They know the counterfeit, their ancient enemy, the Puritan. The one to whom there is no Law. They see him posturing on TV. His is the officially "approved" brand of "Christianity". When he speaks of his "Puritan forebears" he speaks truly. He eyes us over his shoulder while being held in view by the money king who dares not chance giving his viewers a glimpse of a true Covenanter.

He knows Covenanters have not changed. They cannot change. They are bound by The WORD and the blood of their ancestors. He knows that to comply with the covenant great changes must come about in the land.

The establishment must resort to the terror of the Covenanting Times to try to prevent the covenant's return. Still, it will come again, even the Killing Times. Churches and their schools will be closed. Universities which are true will be denied tax exemption. Children will be forced to hear the king's word taught by the king's teachers in the king's own schools. Show trials will be held for ministers accused of high treason when they refuse to acknowledge the king. America's prisons will become England's Virginia to receive the outcasts.

The politicians, preachers, and investors who expect tomorrow to be the same as yesterday are to be sadly disillusioned. Nothing will be the same.

The Covenant is in force. It will no longer be denied. The land that has never been divided - WILL be divided. Unlawful taxation abolished. Criminals punished. Freedom to choose God's Law restored. Prisoners freed. Business conducted according to Law. God's Laws, Statutes and Judgments will rule.

The ancient cry of the covenanter is beginning once more to be heard in the land,

"Down with the king! God save THE KING!"

ACCIDENT WITH A .22 (Part 2)

The kids have put balloons on the trees, shrubs, and front door. Rebecca is home. Weak, but with a big smile and in good spirits.

For the latecomers, my daughter Rebecca had a mis-adventure with a .22 pistol. She spent 2 weeks in intensive care, 3 weeks more in the hospital, underwent 2 major and several minor operations, and received 16 pints of blood. Most of the blood was given AFTER the request had been made that family members ONLY be allowed to supply blood if needed.

Rebecca's conditioned worsened. Another operation was needed. I inserted a statement in the "release-form" stating that if more blood was needed, only blood from family members was to be used.

The doctor canceled the operation. He was quoted as saying that he wasn't going to operate until he had "reached an agreement with Mr. Hoskins." My daughter was in extreme pain. She had received almost no food in 2 days and no water in 24 hours.

My daughter needed an operation to stay alive and there was a chance that she might receive contaminated blood. On the other hand if she did not get the needed operation she might die - what choice is that?

I begged the doctor's pardon in my most humble manner and consented for my daughter to receive AIDS contaminated blood, sickle-cell blood, or any other kind of blood that the medical authorities might feel inclined to give my daughter.

The operation was a success. My protest went for naught. Fortunately, Rebecca did not need more blood.

I felt I was being jerked around. It wasn't common sense to have a room full of willing donors and not be able to use their blood. I know more about my kinsmen than I know about bloodbank donors, at least the donors I've met.

Then too, I have only so much confidence in the blood tests being currently given. After all, it has only been recently that the Red Cross has felt the need to test for AIDS. They still don't feel the need to test for HIV-2 virus that causes AIDS. In fact, it was not long ago that some of the authorities said that AIDS couldn't be transmitted by blood and that it was ridiculous for nurses and dental technicians to wear rubber gloves.

As soon as the operation was in progress I got on the phone to a hospital in Charlottesville to find out how they handle blood transfusions. The first thing I learned is that no 2 doctors give the same answers. Lynchburg and Charlottesville answers differed. It was soon established that most doctors and nurses have no idea why they do the things they do and who makes them do it. "Policy" is what they follow. They can seldom tell you where "policy" originates.

"Charlottesville" stated that they didn't test their own blood but sent it to DC to be tested. In an emergency there was a minimum 3 to 4 day waiting period. Normally it takes 30 days (The Lynchburg doctors said 40 days). I asked why they didn't do their own testing. The one questioned thought it was because of some sort of FDA government ruling. This was the first time anyone had mentioned anything about government involvement.

I called the Lynchburg Red Cross. Lynchburg's testing is done in Roanoke. I called Roanoke.

After going through 4 layers of experts in Roanoke I reached someone who gave me straight answers. A Dr. Cannon. From her I learned the following.

Blood requires 40 days to be tested round trip. Three days in an emergency. Blood has a 42 day shelf life. Hospitals are required to have a license to draw & give blood. Most don't have licenses therefore they can't draw blood. Blood is tested for AIDS, syphilis, and hepatitis. It is not tested for sickle-cell trait.

A person can give and store his own blood for an operation. The operation must be done within the shelf life of 42 days.

Most requests for blood are emergency requests. Usually there is no warning before it is needed. Therefore, there is no opportunity to give blood and wait up to 30 days for it to be tested before being used. The establishment has fixed it so that one must use the blood provided by their blood banks, or die.

I asked for a copy of the code that required all this. This is what was received:

"21 CFR Ch. 1 (4-1-87 Edition)

"Subpart A-Release Requirements

"§ 610.1 Tests prior to release required for each lot.

"No lot of any licensed product shall be released by the manufacturer prior to the completion of tests for conformity with standards applicable to such product. Each applicable test shall be made on each lot after completion of all processes of manufacture which may affect compliance with the standard to which the test applies. The result of all tests performed shall be considered in determining whether or not the test results meet the test objective, except that a test result may be disregarded when it is established that the test is invalid due to causes unrelated to the product."

A cover letter on Red Cross stationery dated Feb. 2, 1988 said:

"Under this regulation, as presently interpreted by American Red Cross employees, your blood, and any blood anywhere, is a MANUFACTURED product and therefore may be regulated.

A doctor who gives any of this "manufactured" product to anyone without going through specified government procedure is in violation of Federal Code 21 CFR Ch. 1(4-1-87 Edition) Subpart A- Release Requirements §610.1. I suppose he could lose his license to practice medicine if he participated in the giving of this untested manufactured blood.

Actually, if anyone has blood in his body he must have manufactured it. Consequently, It would seem logical that those manufacturers may also be regulated under this same regulation for having in his possession and transporting across state lines a federally regulated manufactured product.

Conclusion

I was out of line in blaming the doctors for doing what they could not help.

The doctors were out of line for not knowing what the regulations were that forbade them to give patients their own kinsmen's blood, and therefore could not explain it in a coherent manner.

The government is out of line in demanding adherence to outdated blood testing regulations, regulations that seem designed to spread disease through contaminated blood that can slip through the limitations of their tests, and, most of all, basing the decision on such a weasel worded regulation.

At present, there appears to be no way you can receive your own kinsmen's blood in an emergency. There is no way you can avoid receiving blood from strangers.

This situation will remain until a public outcry forces the establishment to allow "freedom of choice", a thing the establishment greatly abhors.

Chapter 163

THE COVENANTER IN AMERICA

America rapidly prospered because her covenanting immigrants continued to conduct business lawfully.

Obedience to the Law prevented property from being accumulated in the hands of the few. It facilitated trade. It prevented plague and insured a healthy prosperous land free from crime and lawlessness.

But, the Puritan and his master followed their Covenanter victims to their new homes in America. Together they have once more robbed him of lands and wealth won from barren lands.¹

They have adopted as law every plank of the Communist Manifesto while outlawing the Law that the Covenanters have sworn to obey. Even the mention of the Law in places controlled by the descendents of the false Puritans is banned. The consequence to the nation is proving drastic.

Because of numerous requests the banished laws are listed below. The havoc cause by their absence will force their return in time. A Covenanter cannot serve two masters, nor can he live without the one God he has.

The Law

There are 10:

LAW #1: "Love God".

Definition of "Love".

"If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15

Definition of "God".

"In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1,14

The Laws, Statutes, and Judgments were with God, were of God, and were God.

LAW #2: No substitutes

If something is not a Law, Statute, or Judgment, it is a substitute, not of God. Substitutes are forbidden idols.

LAW #3 Thou shalt not call upon God vainly

It is a vain blasphemy to ask for that which is forbidden.

LAW #4 Keep the Sabbath

Rest. Cycle intensity must be reduced on the 7th day, the 7th year land sabbatical, and the 7 x 7 Jubilee year. Rest to keep your health, the land's health and your nation's health.

LAW #5 Honor parents

Honor parents. Honor their values. Honor their bloodlines. Honor statutes they have established under law to make society orderly.

LAW #6 No murder

Kill only malefactors required by Law. No murder.

LAW #7 No adultery

Don't adulterate marriage contracts, business contracts, one species with another, your race with another, your God with another. No adulterating.

LAW #8 No stealingLAW #9 Fair weights & balances

Usury, lying, false weights forbidden. Law adherence allows instant transactions. Your word is your bond.

LAW #10 No coveting

Other men's wives, daughters, possessions. Coveters are dangerous to anyone who possesses anything.

This is the basic TEN. Simple, straightforward, easily understood. Under these laws are the statutes and judgments.

Example - Stealing

LAW #8 - no stealing. That's the LAW.

A thief steals a car. The LAW is violated. Next, the STATUTE dealing with car theft takes over. Then, the JUDGMENT.

If the thief is caught with the car and it is undamaged, 2 cars must be repaid the victim. If the thief steals a car and wraps it around a telephone pole, 4 cars must be repaid.

If the thief cannot pay, he is reduced to servitude to repay with labor. If he runs - he is killed.

The law of the Saxon is simple and effective.

The Situation

In spite of unlawful establishment court decisions and government pronouncements, millions of people in America, like their ancestors before them, remain true to The WORD.

They judge Everything by it. IT is judged by nothing and no one. To the obedient, Law violation is more than simple disobedience. It is blasphemous since it does injury to the body of Christ who established it in the beginning and whose body the WORD is.

America Without Law

Today, in America, murder is unpunished. The establishment forbids taking life as punishment, even the life of a murderer. The murder rate is soaring. The streets are unsafe. Murderers sire children who murder. Like breeds like.

Pornography is encouraged. It makes the population tolerant of abnormal acts. It stimulates sexual appetites. The result - rape.

Rape is no longer a capital crime. It is encouraged by pornography. Most rapists are strangers. The rapist defiles the people whose statutes say "no bastard shall enter the congregation of Israel forever." The establishment calls for compassion and understanding for the rapist, not the victim.

Sodomy is called an alternate lifestyle instead of an abomination deserving capital punishment. Sodomy is protected. The result - an unchecked plague.

Establishment spokesmen encourage young girls to abort their first born. This allows the babies to be committed to the flames in the ancient ritual offering of the first-born to Baal. The result - a negative birthrate.

Interracial marriage is promoted. The result is deadly. Protected sodomites infect prostitutes and the "liberated" with AIDS. The liberated and prostitutes infect their associates. The circle spreads to other circles - fastest where sex is uninhibited.

One group of strangers with unbridled sex appetities has an illegitimacy rate in excess of 90%. Their habits have extensively infected them with AIDS. Among almost all groups of strangers sex is uninhibited. As a consequence, among ALL groups of strangers the plague is rapidly spreading.

Death Sentence

For one of our women to be raped by a stranger is now tantamount to a sentence of death.

For one of our own to have sexual relations with a stranger is becoming synonymous to a sentence of death.

Sex with one of our own who has had sexual relations with a stranger may soon be synonymous with a sentence of death.

To associate with, to work with, to share food or drink with, to take food from, to inhale the aerosol globules of a cough, or to have ANY relationship formerly considered "innocent" with one who has had a sexual affair with a stranger may incur the sentence of death.

Jesse Jackson belongs to a high risk group. He boasts of spitting in the food he served while working as a waiter. Count on his followers to follow his example. Many are certain to be infected. Many are certain to pass on their infection in this manner.

The dangerous person is no longer perceived as being the sodomite. The world knows him and avoids him. It is not even the highly infected "stranger". He too is easily identified and can be as easily avoided.

The most dangerous of all is the one spreading the plague unperceived. The one who associates with the stranger. One of our own who betrays his own. The one of whom is written:

"There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers
(Heb:"zûwr - racial alien), and after them I will go."
Jer 2:25.

Special care must be taken to identify these people. They are spiritual kinsmen to the false Puritan. For your own protection you MUST know the company your associates keep.

Avoid those who associate with high risk groups. Their associations cause them to stand a much higher risk of being infected. If you avoid the plague then everything becomes possible.

Our Concern

Our concern is to arrive in the future with as little damage to our beliefs, our persons, and our property as possible.

Rapid changes are taking place. Washington is lawless. Their decrees unreasonable. In time they will be disregarded. The day of LAW and the lawful will arrive. Everything and everyone will be judged by the Law. To be lawful is to ensure survival.

There will be change. There is profit in change. New industries will be needed. There will be drastic shifts in political power, in populations. It will be OUR time.

Summary

Change always comes. Almost always there is time to adjust.

Live a day at a time. Use precaution. Don't worry unnecessarily. Insofar as possible owe no man anything. Be patient. Be prudent. Read the signs of the times. When they point to deflation, buy discount government bonds and hold a few "no and low-debt stocks" situated in strong industries. If you speculate - sell short. Keep most of your cash in government money market funds and T-bills.

When inflation comes again, quickly sell the bonds, cover shorts, take your money from government money market funds and T-bills and buy no-debt and low-debt stocks. Buy land, timber, and other natural resources. Buy gold.

Cycles come - cycles go. The only sure thing is change. But even with change - there is still nothing new under the sun. It has all been said and done before.

AIDS UPDATE

EXPLODE: "A secret report predicts the AIDS epidemic will explode within the next 4 years and may overwhelm city hospitals ... The city ... will be flooded by up to 109,400 patients with AIDS ... by 1991." NY Post, Oct. 28, 1987

WIDESPREAD: "Tests ... in Massachusetts indicated the AIDS virus is more widespread ... than previous studies had suggested. ... blood tests showed ... one of every 476 women giving birth ... carried the virus ... Such screening in Massachusetts had previously found one out of every 25,000 women blood donors infected... Hence, the new finding might reflect the national prevalence of the AIDS virus." WSJ, March 3, 1988. p.20

ED: If tests found only 1 infected in 25,000 blood donors what about the 52 per 25,000 whose infected blood should have been caught but wasn't? Count Dracula himself would have reservations about bloodbank blood.

SEX WITH AFRICANS: "The Ivory coast ambassador ... has circulated ... a report quoting Professor Finn Black ... one of Denmark's leading AIDS experts. (Prof. Black) warns Danish women not to 'have sex with men from Africa.' ... (he) said AIDS had another form in Africa, where just as many women as men had the disease unlike in the Americas and Western Europe where the disease was found primarily among homosexuals and drug addicts. ... Black said it was equally dangerous for Danish men ... 'It is really dangerous and I am shaken by the fact that my own examination of travelers who have been to Africa showed that 9% had been infected.'" S. A. Observer, Dec. 1987

JEWISH BURIAL: "Jewish burial societies have been told that neither religious law nor tradition requires them to wash the bodies of AIDS victims. ... The ruling by rabbinical experts in Jewish law came at the request of a rabbi who said members of some burial societies were afraid that contact with AIDS victims might infect them. 'It is a question that every Jewish community is now addressing,' said Rabbi Yitzchak Rosenbaum.'" New York Daily News, Oct 7, 1987

DOUBLE PLAGUE: "Health officials, facing a 30% rise in syphilis ... fear a link with AIDS. ... NY City began seeing unusually aggressive cases of syphilis ... AIDS tests on people diagnosed as having syphilis found 20% also carrying the AIDS virus ... The ... implication: People may be simultaneously spreading AIDS and virulent new forms of syphilis." USN & WR, March 21, 1988

UNFILTERED NEWS

AFGHAN RESISTANCE: "The flow of weapons to the Afghan Resistance has decreased markedly ... according to the Resistance they were promised a doubling of tonnage ... tonnage so far this year is only 30% of what was promised." Sen. Gordon J. Humphrey, copied from Washington Inquirer, p.7, March 11, 1988

ED: Communist rule in Afghanistan, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Cuba, Angola, SW Africa, View Nam and elsewhere was established with help from the US government and is protected by the US. Anti-communists in these nations have been persecuted. The present show of force against Nicaragua will be as effective as the show of force against Viet Nam. The sedition trial in Little Rock is a trial of US anti-communists. The number of these trials will increase. The US is ruled by those who do not mean her citizens well.

TAX DEFICITS: "Tax Increases are likely next year as Congress looks for ways to cut the deficit." WSJ, p1, March 16, 1988

ED: Congress won't "coin" money. They borrow $10 from private banks and agree to repay $11. The 11th dollar interest is the deficit. Deficits can be stopped. Coin money and don't pay interest. Increased "taxes" can't reduce deficits. They only siphon off the small volume of money left in circulation. Congressmen work for those who elected them. Not the voters.

BLACK ON WHITE: "Big Lie ... Patrick Buchanan ... cites a report ... which tries to lay the blame for racial violence on white racism. ... Of the 629,000 interracial crimes recorded in 1985, 9 out of 10 were committed by blacks against whites. 98% of the time white criminals prey on other whites, but black criminals choose fellow blacks as victims less than half the time, preferring to attack white people!" copied from Curtis Dickinson's Report, 5231 16th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79416

HOUSE OF LORDS: To the British House of Lords, Baron Jakobovits ... chief rabbi of Britain ... The honor, recommended by Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and appointed by Queen Elizabeth II was the highest bestowed on a chief rabbi since 1656, when Jews were allowed by Oliver Cromwell to resettle in Britain after a 366-year ban." Maclean's Magazine

MAKE MONEY AND DIE: Executive order 11110, June 4, 1963, signed by President Kennedy, further amended E. O. 10289 of Sept. 19, 1951, gave authority to the President to issue the currency. He ordered the issue of US Notes in the amount of $4,292,893,815. On November 1963 he was shot and killed in Dallas, Texas. The next day the E. O. was rescinded by President Lyndon Johnson." - Melvin Sickler, Michael Journal, Rougemont, Quebec JOL 1MO, Sep.- Oct. 1987, copied from Financial News Analysis.

WITCHES: "Johnny Todd was a member of the Grand Druid Council of 13 until Sept. 1972, when he professed conversion to Christianity. Until that time, he knew no other religion, for his ancestors had practiced witchcraft for over 700 years. Todd testified that the covens in level 3 were actively involved in human sacrifices. Level 4, he claimed, contained members of the Council on Foreign Relations, which he also claimed was the secret government in America". Covenant Message, Jan. 1983, p.19 PO Box 830, Honeydew 2040 S. Africa.

EPISCOPAL SODOMITES: "Episcopal House of Bishops says it might bless couples in sodomite marriages. Presbyterian General Assembly recommends that the Federal Government nullify laws that regulate private sexual behavior between consenting adults. They are going to grant membership to unrepentant sodomites. The Church of England says it will not excommunicate sodomite priests and supports the position that sodomy, adultery and fornication are not sinful in all circumstances." Sileven Sez, PO Box 249, Louisville, NE 68037

FOOD: A congressional investigative report says proposals to require labeling of imported beef, pork and lamb to tell consumers where the meat came from are not justified ... recent exposure of chemically contaminated beef from Australia, kangaroo meat mixed in with Australian beef, cancer-eyed cows slaughtered in Mexico, and unsanitary conditions of slaughter plants in Costa Rica. Unjustified my foot!!!" Agriculture Watchdog, Dec 1, 1987, Hereford, TX 79045

SWISS BANKS: "Mr. Hoskins: A recent speaker advised getting out of the dollar and getting money into a Swiss bank. What do you think?" G. T. - Illinois

ED: I remember 1974 when some of the soundest Swiss banks went under. There was no warning. It turned out that Swiss banks have little supervision.

GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How is it that the US, Britain, and the USSR didn't have a single war criminal while Germans have been executed by the thousands as war criminals?" - Cpl. US Army.

ED: Strange, isn't it. Shortly after WW II, I was shown US Army training films showing US troops lining up German prisoners and shooting them down with machine guns.

WC/PC: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Just finished reading your WC/PC. It is a vast history lesson in a few pages. I believe you said it would be wise to get out of debt immediately if you can, with or without bankruptcy, regardless of high taxes. Is that correct?" B. E. - Iowa

ED: Mostly. One knows his own situation best. The law is absolute and governs all. The borrower is slave to the lender. A slave is worthless for the days ahead. Free MEN, penniless or not, will be in demand.

ERNST ZUNDEL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Canadian Ernst Zundel is again being tried. He asked for proof that '6 million' were exterminated in WWII. The Red Cross says that 300,000 died in prisons and prison camps in Germany from 1939-1945. Out of this 300,000 perhaps 30,000 may have been Jews. The Red Cross also reports 3,050,000 German civilian deaths from air raids, etc. Most of this can be documented from official lists. There are official lists of Allied prisoners who died in German camps, lists of German soldiers and civilians who died in Allied camps, lists of women and children who died in British concentration camps in S. Africa, lists of thousands of Allied POWs who died in Japanese captivity, lists of the thousands of Confederate POWs who died in Union prison camps and of Union POWs who died in Southern prison camps. But, no list of the '6 million'. An extermination policy killing 6 million is a very big operation. It requires much paperwork. There has been none found. Not even one sheet out of the hundred or so tons needed for such a massive undertaking. Nothing. Zundel asked for proof. Abuse in place of proof is no answer. What happens to the billions in reparations already paid if the '6 million' can't be proved? R. M. - Canada

P.S. I can't ask the above questions in Canada without fear of arrest."

SEDITION TRIAL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The biggest news today is the Sedition Trial in Fort Smith. The three charged with "sedition" have been placed in the midst of already convicted members of The Order to establish guilt by association. The government has spared no effort. The media helps by burying the trial. If the government railroads these men, to speak or write against the government will become treason. The days of freely speaking and freely writing will stop." H. L. - North Carolina

BLACK SOLDIERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A black woman told the DAR that 5000 black soldiers fought in the Revolution and she wants to put a memorial to them next to the Vietnam Memorial. Did 5000 blacks actually serve in the Continental Army?" F. A. - Colorado

ED: 5000 blacks would fill 5 regiments. Five regiments were often as many troops as Virginia had in the field. Washington's entire army at times numbered only about 5000. I know of no black regiments, battalions, or even black companies that served in the Continental Army.

Body servants accompanying their masters, and black teamsters hired to the army by their masters constitute an unknown number. But, 5000 could mean that at times most of the men in Washington's army had body servants, or that Washington's army itself was black. Both suppositions are ridiculous. Virginia and most other states would not use blacks as soldiers because to do so would violate the law prohibiting "strangers" ruling over Israel, even when they were the enemy. From the records we have it is highly unlikely that 5000 blacks served in line regiments of the Continental army, or even as servants to those who did.

Incidentally, these descendants of English Puritans recruited blacks with the promise of freedom and then sold them into slavery in Barbados. They also aroused, armed, and led Indians against our borders and watched them do what Indians do.

MEXICAN BLOOD: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: In his book The Tarnished Door, John Crewdson sheds light on the source of some of the blood that goes into US blood banks. In El Paso, a blood plasma center, one of 9, is a short distance from the Mexican border. They buy from border crossers for $8 a pint and sell to hospitals for $20. The quality of blood going into the blood banks is anyone's guess." C. A. - Wisconsin

Chapter 164

DIFAQANE

The following article appeared in DAIS, Fort Langley, B.C. in March 1988. The Afrikaaner author, Dirk Van der Merwe, tells a story of an extraordinary venture in S. Africa - a venture which became very profitable for those who risked their blood and treasure to take and keep it. Van der Merwe also wrote "Blood River" which appeared in issue #144, Sep. 1986.

"Difaqane is a Sotho word meaning 'forced relocation' or 'hammering'. The Nguni word 'Mfecane' for the same concept means 'devastated in a total war.'

"Both of these words are at best an extremely poor attempt to describe the horror and magnitude of the worst (recorded) instance of black fratricide, and black on black genocide in Southern Africa.

"These wars started when the Manthatisi drove the Mist people from their country and then moved on west either to destroy other clans or to disperse them.

"In this way a congestion involving hundreds of thousands of people developed. Sotho groups both large and small turned westward each trespassing on the domains of another.

Waves Of Invaders

"Powerful armies annihilated their weaker neighbors, confiscating their possessions and moving on, knowing full well that if they loitered they too would be attacked by wave upon wave of people advancing from the east

"Difaqane hurled the Sotho people into a maelstrom of destruction, until eventually an estimated twenty-eight distinct clans disappeared, leaving not a trace of their former existence. ...

"The Difaqane exhausted itself by 1829 (leaving) in its wake the once proud Sotho nation a devastated rag tag mob ... The victors' 'mop up policy' was simple: That which could not be consumed on the spot was burned, slaughtered, raped, wrecked or murdered. With crops burned and herds obliterated, cannibalism became a necessity to survival ...

Vacant Land

"The Difaqane also left the region north of the Orange River (S. Africa) an uninhabited wasteland, littered with the ruins of burnt out kraals and the multiplied thousands of sun bleached skeletons - a wilderness ready for the taking by whomever would settle and claim it as their home. ...

"Seven years after the Difaqane came to an end, the Boers, emigrating from British rule in the Cape colony, entered this uninhabited region and claimed it as their property ... (They) brought a religious and moral ethic ...

that all should live in peace and that the weak were worthy of protection. ...

"The enforcement of this ethic by whites has (until now) prevented a re-enactment of the Difaqane in S. Africa."

The New Difaqane

"A new African Difaqane has already started. And this one no one will stop until it has claimed its last victim. Its name is AIDS. That it will leave vast areas in Black Africa depopulated is no longer the question. The question is: Who will settle and claim the land once the carnage is over? ...

"The death toll is expected to reach 75 million in the foreseeable future. It is reported that S. Africa recently returned 1000 migrant mine workers to Malawi who tested positive for AIDS ...

"Unless a miracle drug that will cure AIDS is found very quickly, most of Black Africa is doomed. And so are the plans which were calculated on the inevitability of blacks ruling all of Africa - S. Africa included. Pockets of blacks will survive! But the concept of blacks as a political factor in Africa ... is finished"

Editor's Comment

Botha, the puppet president of S. Africa, has turned his back on a few of his integration policies. His reason is that Black voters may not be a political factor in the long run. Most will be dead.

A politician has no political future if his political base is gone. AIDS will have changed everything. The establishment's plot to have S. Africa taken over by blacks may be fading.

The Question

With the blacks dead, WHO will live on the vacant lands? First, second and third generations of dispossessed American farmers may definitely be interested in knowing - WHO will take up the rich farms abandoned by white farmers who refused to live under black rule just a few decades ago?

The answer is - Africa is up for grabs. If our people can settle first and keep out the teeming millions of India and China, a new homeland free from establishment rot can be formed.

Across America are tens and hundreds of thousands of families - penniless land hungry families the establishment has thrown off their land. It would appear that the developing scenario was made for them.

I have talked to my own children and their families about this possibility. Their reaction was enthusiastic - if all comes to pass as projected.

Summary

The first Difaqane cleared the land and resulted in today's Boer states. The present Difaqane is slowly clearing the land again and may result in opportunity.

It should be to the advantage of S. Africa to have her northern borders colonized by her own kind rather than by potentially hostile Asiatics or land hungry Turks and Arabs from the mid- East.

To ensure that this takes place I predict that in time Boer survivors will court dispossessed American farmers and the many others who have lost their land in earlier generations. She will offer to subsidize travel and much of their expenses if they will take up some of the richest land in the world - virtually free.

Africa may be the new land of opportunity. The tarnished American dream may become a bright African dream.

European farmers developed million dollar farms a generation ago which were stolen from them by the schemes of white renegade politicians. These farms were in turn indifferently farmed by blacks who will in time be dead from plague. They will stand waiting for the man and his family willing to emigrate, settle, and fight for them.

Let's watch the situation and be prepared if events unfold as envisioned. If they do, we may soon hear the cry -

Africa! Land of opportunity!

The Sedition Trial

Pastor Richard Butler, Pastor Robert Miles, and Louis R. Beam Jr, walked free. The establishment's sedition trial in Fort Smith fell to pieces. A JURY found the accused "not guilty".

The government's case hinged on the testimony of James D. Ellison. The jury didn't find Ellison trustworthy. Ellison was the government's informant who implicated 5 others in an alleged conspiracy.

Ellison headed a survivalist group for about 10 years in Arkansas. He was arrested in 1985 and plead guilty to the "catch-all" charge of racketeering and federal firearms violations. The government said that he was turned in by his own son-in-law, an event that raised eyebrows but doesn't seem to have caused undue animosity between the two.

The government said that Ellison started working for them in 1986. The suspicion is that he was working for the FBI all along since his survival operation had no other visible means of support. Its avowed purpose was to be a last ditch holdout in the Arkansas mountains in the event the communists took over America. As such it became a right-wing beacon to those disaffected with DC policies, especially those who have come to believe that the communists have already taken control of the government. The government's story is that Ellison agreed to implicate others in trade for reduced sentence and protection for himself and his two wives and nine children.

Ellison testified that he and his right hand man, Noble, met with two of the defendants and discussed means of killing an FBI agent. He admitted that he took the resulting plan to the defendants Richard Butler, Robert E. Miles, and Louis Beam at Hayden Lake, Idaho to get their agreement, which was used as establishment evidence.

Ellison's right hand man, Noble, and others of Ellison's group were not indicted for many overt acts they were said to have participated in even though the defendants were standing trial for these very same events.

The suspicion among certain conservatives is that the "Ellison bust" was a government sting from beginning to end. They point to many strange coincidences. Ellison had been allowed to have two wives in a country which frowns on such things. The Ellison compound in the hills of Arkansas had no emergency "back door" escape route. After a nationally publicized "sweetheart confrontation" with federal assault forces the Ellison group folded without resistance, and congratulations made the rounds over a staged "peaceful solution"; a most illogical ending for a group protesting that communists had taken over the DC government. There were illegal automatic weapons discovered casually lying around which conveniently provided evidence of the group's guilt. Only slight effort had been made to conceal them, and no effort had been made to destroy and dispose of their incriminating automatic devices. Something easily accomplished. A large barrel of a chemical was present that served no useful purpose except to confirm the charge that the accused meant to poison entire cities. And, no charges were placed against others of the Ellison group who appeared as guilty, if not more guilty, than those indicted.

There was even one government witness, Dale Strange of Forksville, Pa, who, under cross-examination admitted that he had attended the same meetings as Ellison and that he had heard no seditious talk. He also said that the accused ministers had gotten on him for smoking marijuana.

Numerous witnesses contradicted government testimony, giving different accounts of events and placing defendants at different locations at different times. When asked why he voted for acquittal one juror said simply that he "did not believe the government witnesses".

Trademarks - Government Agents

The "sleaze factor" has emerged as a government trademark in these affairs. Their agents often appear as law breakers themselves. The most obvious in this case being, Ellison's two wives and Dale Strange's marijuana. Evidently, the better types will not work for the establishment.

Other employee trademarks I've been told about are:

- 1) Stand-offish-ness to prevent betraying themselves by a careless remark.

2) Bad language and often indifferent hygienic habits, including dirty nails, poorly shaven, unkempt looking, shirt-tails partly out, etc.

3) Most drink and smoke.

4) They ask shocking questions - for their recording devices.

5) They often deny basic Bible beliefs, or cannot substantiate their stated beliefs.

Unfortunately for the government's image the sleaze factor often betrays their presence.

This Sedition Trial failed. The JURY SYSTEM worked as establishment howls attest. However, innocent men were chained together and locked away for months. They were forced to spend every cent of their personal fortunes to avoid 20-40 years imprisonment on trumped up charges. They are now penniless. Already the word is out that there are 5 other grand juries meeting at this very moment to start other "sedition trials" around the country. The end result was predicted 30 years ago in my book Our Nordic Race. It can still be obtained for $5.50 from this address.

UNFILTERED NEWS

US FOREIGN POLICY: "The (anti-South African) Act adopted in 1986 by ... the US Congress is proving a serious embarrassment ... US imports of key metals and minerals from Soviet Russia have risen as follows: Chrome Ore + 157%, Rhodium 386%, Platinum sponge +17%, Ferrosilicon +377%, Platinum bars +321%, Antimony +4,793%, Industrial Diamonds +4,900% ... the US taxpayer is having to foot the bill ..." World Economic Review

ED: There's no embarrassment. The USSR found it difficult to pay interest on their loans from the international banks. Laws were passed forbidding purchase of S. African products. S. Africa is forced to sell her goods to the USSR at regular price. The USSR re-sells S. African goods to the US with a very large middleman profit. The profit pays her debts. The banks get their interest.

The Panama Canal was given away for the same reason. American industry is given to 3rd world nations for the same reason. An "embarrassment"? Hardly! The establishment and their political collaborators know what they are doing. There are no red faces in Washington or on Wall Street.

ABORTION: "It is all right for Doctors to abort babies but a man who stabbed a pregnant woman and killed her baby was charged with murder." Insight Magazine, p.59, March 28, 1988, copied from Silven Sez, Apr. 1988)

FREEDOM FIGHTERS AID: "The State Department has developed a plan to cut off all aid to freedom fighters in Angola, Afghanistan, and Central America at the same time." Washington Inquirer, Feb. 26, 1988

ED: Establishment media insist the US will continue to supply Afghan rebels. The Soviets join in by protesting the US supply of Freedom Fighters. In view of US/USSR cream-puff confrontations and past collaborations, who do you think is telling the truth?

ENERGY FROM WATER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A man has written me and wants me to invest in a water machine.

He says that it has the ability to run on hydrogen taken from the water. This is wonderful!" G.M. - Indiana

ED: Once a week for 30 years I listened to someone present a new get rich scheme. I like to hear them. They sound so plausible. Some of them I can never discover a fault with. It's amazing how the human mind can continue to come up with new variations on the same old themes - the very same ones I heard 20 years and more ago.

But invest in them? Heavens no! Just listen to them. Enjoy the stories. They are better than anything on TV. If you are serious about this hydrogen motor, take a bucket of water and fill up your gas tank fitted with the advertised conversion device. If it works for a week consider buying it. If it doesn't you will have a problem getting the water out of your gas lines, but at least you won't have paid for the converter.

Another recently advertised "heat machine" is supposed to take heat out of the ground for power and run forever. It will power your home, run a factory, furnish a city with electricity. All free once you buy this marvelous machine. I would recommend that you test this one too before buying.

LAND SABBATH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am going to leave my garden idle for the 7th year so that insect pests won't have anything to feed on and will die, and also to control weeds. Before leaving it should I till it & leave it? plant rye grass? or what?" B.J. - IO

ED: I've been told not to till. Just walk away from it.

DRUGS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do drugs have to do with the US effort to oust Gen. Noriega?" P. B. - Ohio

ED: Peru makes more from drugs than copper. More than a billion. This money is laundered through Panama banks. Gen. Noriega is accused of taking more than his share. He is also accused of slowing up the laundering process until he gets it. A friendly politician placed in Panama can plug this hole. The establishment's private annual budget is in the billions - kept in offshore banks or the underground cash economy. It can't allow a banana general on the family payroll to clog the conduit. Noriega must step aside, shape up, or die. Business WILL be transacted as usual. There's too much at stake. Of course, things will be quiet if he gets his price.

FARM FORECLOSURES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Farm foreclosures aren't over. My cousin is a widow. She works for a bank. She went to work this morning and was told that she was fired and her farm on which the bank holds a mortgage was foreclosed. There are no more 'marginal' or 'average' farms left in this part of Missouri to foreclose. This farm is among the top 10% in the community." P.H. - Missouri

ABORT & KILL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A school girl can't go on a field trip without her parents signed permission, but she can abort and kill her baby without anyone knowing about it." M. G. - Illinois

DRUGS SINGAPORE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: In Singapore, the punishment for dealing drugs the first time is flogging. The second - death. Singapore has no drug problem." T. E. - Florida

BLOOD: "Dear Dick: My mother lost blood in an accident and needed a transfusion. She refused bloodbank blood. The doctor was furious. I found out what you found out about how the medical profession handles blood." F. A. - Maine

BLOOD: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: My good friend went into the hospital for a minor operation. He contracted hepatitis from bloodbank blood and died." B. B. - Virginia

1929: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I remember 1929. My dad worked for Virginia. A steam shovel operator. He had to take three - 10% pay cuts. He planned for the future and bot a 100 lb. bag of beans. Our neighbor came over daily for a cup of beans to keep his family from starving. They ate most of them. He had a cow. He traded milk, butter and cheese for our beans. Mother canned fruits and vegetables from our garden. We had an apple, peach and pear orchard. Also grapes (5 different kinds), cherries, plums and damsons, apricots, gooseberries, 2 chicken houses, and turkeys. The droppings and straw went to the garden. We lived in the city limits on 1 acre of land. May eat a lot of beans and black-eyed peas in the days ahead, but the protein in them is good for the body." T. E. - Florida

UNIVERSALISM: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I'd like to see more emphasis on alternatives to minimize conflict between all people during the transition to universal brotherhood, peace and justice." G. T. - New York

ED: Each race demands things other races do not want. Differences grow greater. Tempers shorter. Those stretching hands in brotherhood burn bridges behind. Upon arriving in the others' camp they are rejected. When they try to return they are spurned by those they left. Peace is found with one's own. Separation brings peace. Universal brotherhood is another name for universal strife.

MEXICO'S DEBT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The newspaper says that the US will guarantee Mexico's debt. What do you think of this?" G. R. - Michigan

ED: Roman bankers lent money to conquered provinces. The Roman provinces couldn't meet the payments. The bankers instructed Roman politicians to tax the Roman people to raise money to grant to the conquered provinces. With this tax money wrung from the Roman people, the conquered provinces had money to pay the Roman bankers. Roman bankers could not care less about Rome or its citizens. American bankers could not care less about America or its citizens.

RUNAWAY: "Dear Dick: I was approached by a young white runaway boy. He hadn't eaten in days and was wandering with such a desperate air about him. What in the world can we do about these who are our own people? We try to live ethically but it all seems so vain!" N. I. - New York City

ISLAMIC BANKING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I recently imported your book WC/PC from Australia. Is the debt free Islamic banking system the reason the US is threatening Iran? G. R. - S. Africa

ED: Only partially. The main reason is that the usury system demands an opponent. It is the one excuse that Americans will buy when it is time to borrow massive amounts of money into circulation to spend us out of the next depression.

Chapter 165

IRAN GATE

Events like those described below don't "just happen" - they are made to happen. Most times they are planned. Sometimes they are "dirty tricks": Iran-gate may have been a "dirty trick".

Rome

Twenty families ruled Rome. They owned almost all the land on the Italian peninsula and paid almost no taxes. Rome was their own private "milk cow". Laws that were passed benefited the interest of the ruling party of the establishment and the fallout usually helped all the rest.

Most times these parties supported each other against outsiders to their mutual advantage. In dealings among themselves they kept an armed neutrality. "Differences" were settled privately. The great danger was a leader of the people arising, or one family becoming supreme over the rest. Such an event could be deadly and result in "St. Valentine's Day" massacres.

This, in fact, happened on two occasions. One family became supreme and liquidated most of the rest and confiscated their wealth. Thus, there was a constant struggle to keep one family from gaining absolute ascendancy over the others.

Roman Incidents

Things seldom "just happened" - they were made to happen. Misfortunes took place. Important supply ships sank, armies were sent to the wrong place, people drank things that didn't agree with them or had unfortunate accidents. They sometimes vanished.

At other times the Roman government managed to make such a mess of affairs that historians can hardly believe that the events related actually took place. These things really made the current rulers look bad.

The events taking place today within America's hierarchy may prove to be the same sort. Things go wrong. Things seldom go right.

Events Prior To Iran-gate

Judging by recent fiascoes, one would think that the U.S. military is a circus peopled with clowns.

This isn't true. I have spent years in military school, in the National Guard, Air Force, and Airborne, and from personal experience I know the United States military to contain many extremely efficient professionals. To explain their never ending "flaps" one might look elsewhere than just to blame stupidity.

The U. S. Picks Iran's Ruler

Iran had a Shah who was pro-U.S. The ruling junta in the U.S. dumped him for the present anti-U.S. Ayatollah. When thinking about Iranian affairs always remember that the pro-U.S. Shah was dumped in favor of anti-U.S. Ayatollah Khomeini. The Ayatollah had always been anti-U.S. and the deposed Shah had always been pro-U.S. The switch was no accident.

Next, thousands of pro-U.S. Iranians were executed. This too was no accident. The U.S. has no friends in Iran. The ruler installed with U.S. help has killed them all. This is almost an exact replay of the way an "anti-U.S. Cuba was established. "Anti-U.S." Castro was a B-movie Hollywood tapdancer/actor until chosen to replace "pro-U.S." Batista. Installed with enthusiastic American help he executed thousands of "pro-U.S." Cubans. Kennedy instructed the military to support an invasion of Cuba by "pro-U.S." Cuban refugees. After getting them on the beach they were abandoned. Critical air cover was denied at the last minute. Most were killed. The U.S. has no friends in Cuba. The "anti-U.S." ruler installed with U.S. help killed them all. Nationalist Chinese victims still living also have strong reservations about the American help they received against the communists.

Embassy Debacle

Next, the "anti-U.S." Iranians sacked our embassy. Marines were assigned to guard the embassy. Orders from Washington forbade them the honor of defending themselves against attacking Islamic mobs - their traditional enemy. Instead, proud American marines were handed over to Islamic heathen to be slapped, beaten, and spat upon.

The god of Islam was proclaimed to be greater than our god. Those were almost the exact words spoken by Jimmy Carter as he tried to win favor during negotiations for Embassy hostages release. Islam swelled with pride. American marines who had stormed ashore and humbled Islam 200 years ago were humbled by a government installed with establishment approval.

The Hostage Rescue

Then came the "Iran hostage rescue" to show the American public that everything possible was being done. A rescue mission staged by the American military that looked for all the world like a "Chinese fire drill". Half the rescuing party ran into the other half leaving a pile of crashed helicopters, scattered corpses and equipment lying all over the place. It was called an "accident".

The survivors barely managed to limp home - AND there wasn't an Iranian within miles of the landing zone. Not one. "Allah caused them to do it to themselves. Great is Allah!" The world of Islam still gloats.

To us, America's cannon fodder, this isn't funny either.

The Khadafy Raid

A bomb exploded in a German cafe killing an American. The establishment announced that Khadafy was behind it. Our Air Force was ordered to retaliate to teach Khadafy a lesson; teach him, his followers, and terrorists all over the world that the U.S. is not to be trifled with.

The non-U.S. world sees it differently. In their eyes the U.S. used a Pearl Harbor type sneak attack. The target was the head of a foreign state with whom the U.S. was at peace. The attack resulted in Khadafy's youngest daughter and many, many innocent civilians being killed. Across 5000 miles of N. Africa, the Middle East, and Asia, Islam calls the American attack - murder!

German, English, and French Christians in far away Syria and Lebanon were instantly shot in retaliation. If a "Christian" injures a follower of Islam anywhere in the world, all Islam feels the pain. Even more important, because of the attack hundreds of thousands in Islam have once more raised the "green flag" of holy war. Today, it is usual to find pictures of Islamic groups

German intelligence later traced the club bombing to an Israeli double agent. Apologies and reparations have not been forthcoming or even offered. If one were cynical one might say that those who rule the U.S. are doing everything they can to renew the 5000 year old enmity with the followers of Esau.

Grenada

With administration credibility slipping, a new target was selected. A pin-prick island in the Caribbean was said to be a massive supply depot to be used for communist aggression in central America. An invasion was mounted to neutralize this menace. Against virtually no resistance so many things went wrong that it took three days to secure the island.

It was later revealed that there were only a handful of defenders. Many had no rifles. Little enemy war materiel was found which was the reason given for the invasion. Grenada's ruler was removed and a U.S. selection installed. "Grenada" was then proclaimed to be a great victory. The U.S. withdrew followed by the world's laughter.

At home two establishment critics had accidents. The most vocal, a congressman, was killed in an airliner shot down by an anti- U.S. Chinese government which had been installed with help from the American establishment. His widow is presently being harassed by the IRS.

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) Math 17:25-26.

Because of this law "use taxes" (use of a bridge, use of a highway) are tolerated in Christendom. Taxes on income loudly proclaim the king to be a "stranger" or a "stranger's agent". A "stranger" who does not recognize Christian law. Since Christ IS the law, those who violate the law, both master and agent are branded - anti- Christ! To many - the income tax is un- Christian. for payment of taxes on an accident settlement that she has never gotten. The other, also a congressman, was imprisoned by the IRS for doing what almost everyone else in congress was doing, and for which he was singled out for punishment.

Iran-gate

"Iran-gate" was the most recent disaster. Its immediate cause was due to "someone" leaking information. The leak has never satisfactorily been traced.

This leak was designed to embarrass certain establishment members who currently hold office. It did. Unlike other fiascoes, during this disaster the cloak of privacy slipped a bit and the public saw things behind the scenes designed for insider eyes only. Continuous disagreements within the establishment cause Washington to always look as if it is coming unglued. One thing seems clear. 'Ollie' is not "just" a marine Lt. Colonel. "Fawn" is not "just" a pretty little secretary. The job is too important. Her mother was long term secretary to Kissinger. We may be looking at an hereditary servant to the power elite.

Money Making Machine

"Iran-gate happened because "someone" leaked information. The "money making machine" of Ollie's group within the establishment was exposed. Munitions bought wholesale and with Israeli collaboration sold retail to Israeli enemies. Millions involved, perhaps billions. Secret Swiss bank accounts. Offshore banking. A multi-billion dollar war going on in the mid-east with generals and admirals all around, and a Lt. Col. appears who has the power to march in to America's munitions barons and order anything he wants for anyone he wants, and who has the authority to do anything he wants with the proceeds. No questions asked. All to fight Communism and uphold the American way, of course.

It was also revealed that there exists a private CIA within the CIA with the equipment, financing, and staff able to launch full blown military operations, and not even the CIA admits to knowing anything about it. Millions sent to the Contras. Not to support the war against the communists, because the communists are never hurt. The results indicate that the Contras are being paid NOT TO FIGHT, and they are doing exactly what they are being paid to do. They DON'T FIGHT!

The thing most difficult for the executive branch to explain is why America is furnishing arms to our supposed enemy, Iran, via our supposed friend, Israel, to fight our supposed friend, Iraq, who is also the friend of the USSR whose aircraft attack and blow up our warships in a most unfriendly manner. But still, the establishment stoutly maintains that Iran, the one aided by the establishment, is our official enemy. It is inferred that we just do not understand the situation.

This is hard to comprehend unless one remembers that "anti-U.S." Iran and its "anti-U.S." leader are creations of the very same establishment that is also responsible for doing all these other things.

The Operation

America briefly glimpsed one of the groups who rule America and the world.

The establishment and its operational groups have been around for years. There must be hundreds of billions at stake. For this reason someone cannot be allowed to drop in from nowhere and rearrange years of effort. Even the nation's president must take orders, not give them.

ALL candidates for the job have to receive media exposure to be elected, and they must be basically acceptable. They must be the same kind of horse from the same stable regardless of party. From arch-conservative Wallace to wild-eyed liberals like Jesse Jackson and Bush the wimp, when the cards are down all will prove to be liberals who have passed the establishment test and are house-broken. They know what they can do and can't do. Media exposure is their reward. Without it they are nothing.

In effect, the election whoopee chooses between previously chosen candidates. The election process is only a crowd pleasing spectacle. The winner is always an actor. Some come directly from Hollywood.

If this were not the case - Wallace would not have had a cameraman present at the schoolhouse door to take his picture. Reporters would talk about Jackson's love life, and questions about Bush's drug contacts would be front page. No one asks these questions. Media protection goes with establishment OK.

The well paid toothless hounds of the senate's "millionaires club" are given another pay raise¹ a little TV exposure, and in return find little wrong. A presidential "pardon" awaits if partisan politics go beyond that allowed.

For a brief moment we glimpsed the millions of dollars moving on well traveled highways we never dreamed existed outside of all traceable economic channels. Millions that can be used for payoffs, retirements, elections, Nugen-Hand bank assassinations, revolutions, private estates - anything! "The Nugen-Hand Bank was exposed by the Australian Government as a CIA fraud. Francis J. Nugan, Chairman, murdered. Michael J Hand, Vice-Chairman, an ex-Green beret Vietnam War Hero - now one of the world's most wanted men."² Billions that can be used wherever and whenever needed.

Conclusion

We learned a lot from Iran-gate. In time it will all come out. Just as in the time of Rome, today's ruling establishment is made up of families who are jealous of each others' power. Their houses of cards are bulging with money and power.

1 "Let him not have ... abundance of riches ... he may grow too proud to submit to the laws." Antiq 4:8:17

2 Hope's Husband, p.47, Nord Davis, Jr.

"Iran-gates" occur when competing families pull cards from the bottom of their neighbors' "house of cards" to show onlookers in the attempt to cut them down to size.

Order will be restored when our nations recognize God The Word and obey His requirements. The promise is:

"The day that Israel shall repent (obey), the kingdom of the enemy shall be brought to an end." Book Of Dan 2:16-17.

Fort Smith - FBI Surveillance

Following the acquittal of the Fort Smith Treason Trial defendants I called one of them, Pastor Robert Miles, to discuss the trial. One question I asked was "What new or unusual occurred at the trial that you consider worth mentioning."

"The FBI's use of 'pick-me-up' agents", was his answer.

"Whenever the FBI wants manpower they hire local amateurs and pay them $400 a day. When they go after someone, almost overnight they can produce a cloud of informers, snoopers, impersonators, all newly hired.

"As these new agents stumble over each other questioning neighbors, poring over courthouse records, grilling teachers, friends, etc. they make quite an impression. This is your new FBI."

I've got news. The FBI has been doing this for years.

A few years back, on a dare, I wrote the FBI, Washington, DC, and asked them to release to me under the "freedom of information act" a copy of any record they might have on me. Then, I had my signature "notarized" so they wouldn't have a reason to turn down my request.

A few weeks later a thick packet returned. I was shocked! Yes, they had a file on me. Not only did they have a file, but the entries went back into my teens. The first agent had followed me onto a bus when I was perhaps 15 years old. He reported that I had advised other school children not to say "Civil War" but "War Between The States" because it showed which side you were on. Can you imagine? This is important enough to go into an FBI file? - when I was a teen!!!

My father, a surgeon, was identified as a dope fiend, not respected in the profession or the community. My father, a medical doctor, had 4 specialities and was one of the few doctors in the country deemed capable of practicing all four at the same time. Internal medicine, eye ear nose & throat, surgery, and urology. My mother was identified as a "religious fanatic" who taught Sunday School and was chaplain to a radical organization known as the Daughters Of The American Revolution. The FBI report described my family as "strange" and "standoffish".

A group of woodland scouts, led by me, was of particular interest to the FBI. Some parents and certain boys belonging to my group of pre-teens had been questioned by agents on the QT. Investigation showed that the group was possibly subversive. At meetings, tortures were inflicted. Boys offending some rule were made to sit absolutely still with their feet out in front of them (error: legs crossed) for 20 minutes (and they were not even allowed to move their eyes except to blink). Further investigation at last convinced the investigating agent that this group was local, had no contact with any national group, and was probably harmless.

When I got into college the files got even more interesting. Places I went. Political speakers I heard. Letters to editor I had written. Things I said. It was all there. The really interesting parts that I suppose dealt with bugs, wire taps, informer's names, mail interceptions, agents grilling employers, breaking and entering, payoffs, and amount of the bribes paid weirdos to collect this sort of kinky information must be in the parts blacked out. Almost entire pages were blacked out.

All this is unbelievable. I have searched my memory and can't recall a single unfriendly face. Who were these mysterious agents doing this watching? Why didn't I see them? Why were they following me around? What had I done?

Except for brief periods I have lived here all my life. In my teens Lynchburg was a small town. Everyone knew everyone else. It was a fish bowl life. Were FBI agents prowling everywhere? Was something going on that I didn't know about? Something that people were afraid that I might find out about? Later in the military I even had "Top Secret" clearance. Even after this clearance the record continues.

I mentioned to Pastor Miles that I was a little "paranoid". The old man said to me - "Dick, just because you are paranoid doesn't mean that they aren't watching you." A good observation.

Look! If the FBI will pay their agents fortunes to watch me from the time I was a boy, and I still haven't done anything illegal, they'll watch you too. Why don't you sit down right now and write the FBI in Washington and ask for a copy of your own FBI record.

Be sure to have your signature notarized before you mail your letter. Then, sit back and see what arrives in YOUR file. This is the good old USA, the home of the free. Remember?

Note: There is an excellent chance that you will receive back an interesting folder. If you don't, just remember, you have their word that they have no folder on you. Only that.

Note: Eustace Mullins' FBI file was over 800 pages. He photocopied it, made it into a book, and sells it for $15 a copy.

LETTERS

ESCAPE TUNNEL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You stated in your last letter about the Fort Smith Conspiracy Trial that the Ellison compound in the Arkansas hills did not have a back door. There was an escape tunnel which was immediately covered by the federals." P.C. - Colorado

ED: Ellison's groundplan envisioned a siege. In the actual sweetheart siege the tunnel became the only door. There was no back door. Even if there had been two tunnels, a door is only as good as its keeper.

LINCOLN: "Richard: You seem to regard Lincoln as the enemy. How can this be? He died at the hands of the money changers after he attempted to introduce constitutional money." C.W. - Washington

ED: Mr. Lincoln? Sir, you have touched a tender spot. Lincoln is one of the few things on which I hold strong opinions.

Lincoln was a central bank supporter. He was elected to office with bank backing. A bank agent, if you will.

Once in power he developed independent ideas. He admired the debt free Southern monetary scrip system. He copied it and issued money instead of borrowing it from the private banks who supported him for office. The Lincoln experiment had to be stopped for the establishment to survive. Lincoln was replaced. There was no other choice.

BUT - just because Mr. Lincoln's enemy is MY enemy - that does not make Mr. Lincoln my friend. He did other things besides making interest-free money while he was in office.

He imprisoned 10,000 of his own people without charge, closed opposition newspapers as it pleased him, had his army shoot down civilians in northern cities, and declared martial law.

At the very time his own family owned slaves he stole those belonging to others which had been bought by their owners in good faith. Payment was refused. "Lincoln lies" are notorious. He surrounded himself with like-minded men. A hard drinking, hard smoking lot. Sherman needs no introduction. Grant was called a shiftless unemployed bum by those who knew him. His father had been trained by the terrorist John Brown. His wife delved into astrology. A cozy family-like group of like-minded people that couldn't have come together by accident. These were his good points. From here it was all downhill.

The man was a monster to those he chose to make his enemies. There was nothing about him to "misunderstand" or "misjudge". It was all there on the table. There is not a single reason to believe "things would have been different had he lived." To support that hackneyed quote are only the words of his fellow party-politicians.

He knew of the suffering of POWs, both northern and southern. He imprisoned Southern POWs in the most exposed areas and refused to furnish them blankets and proper food. To the Northern prisoners in the South he refused to send medicines when requested both by Union prisoners and Southern officialdom. He stopped prisoner exchange that had been instituted earlier to relieve prisoner suffering.

He took over my great-grandfather's home at Kelly's Ford for his headquarters. While there he witnessed first hand the wanton pillaging and destruction going on right before his eyes and didn't lift a hand to stop it. He could have. He looked on approvingly as his soldiery broke open barrels of flour and poured molasses over it to make it unusable. Kelly's Ford was far behind union lines, so there was no military reason for it. He looked with hatred at the hungry women and children of my family, and the other burned out women and children refugees living there and crowded together in barns. His face was hard. His heart was hard. His soldiers drove the slaves away with rifle butts, only to have them return a few nights later to share the hunger and deprivation his minions left behind. Still they stayed. The generals he picked were hard. Lincoln was a hard hard man. The only gentle thing about him is the picture establishment historians paint. Had he lived it is doubtful if more than a very few of us would have survived.

Even after he was gone we had to live though years of occupation by black soldiers, carpetbagger government, wholesale thievery, brutality, rape, murders, and unspeakable things. It took that long before Lincoln's holocaust of ruin, starvation, and brutality, picked clean the bones of the South. There was nothing left to steal, so they went away and left us be.

BUT, before they left they raised the tariffs and charged us 3 times as much as before. They put in differential freight rates so that it cost more to ship goods by train from Richmond to NY than from NY to Richmond. The rates were still that way when I was a boy. Maj. William Hoskins, my great grandfather was a surgeon in The War. He had several advanced degrees. His son, my grandfather, was left 10,000 acres. Taxes broke him. Much of his life was spent behind a mule. He was lucky to get a 3rd grade education. He was fortunate to sell his land to a land company for almost nothing. It saved killing himself to pay the killing taxes used to pay the enormous state debt forced on Virginia during his father's generation.

Lincoln's successors relented not at all. They just left us in our misery and told us to pay the debts their minions had run up or they would "come back and finish the job." They left us in chains, but, praise God, they left.

Mr. Lincoln an enemy? Why sir, why would you think that? He is the model that the establishment wants everyone to copy. Goodness knows, today, Washington has a score that could fill his shoes in an instant.

Chapter 167

WHO WILL EAT

Issue #119 stated that driving the American farmer from the land would have serious repercussions.

Issue #134, was about The Weather and its changing character. Both articles are combined in the one that follows.

Sometime in the first half of this century the world entered an ice age.¹

Proof - the heat!

Smog, smoke, and dust envelope the earth. It acts to shield the polar ice caps. The sun's rays cannot reach the ice caps to melt them. Snow falling in this region accumulates and little of the sun's heat arrives to melt it. The air that takes moisture to the poles leaves it there as snow. As it returns it picks up little moisture from melting ice as it used to do to bring summer rain. The summer winds arrive dry.

Throughout the world, little rain falls. Mexico is turning into a desert and her people flee to the US. Here, America's bread basket is drying up. The Mississippi is reduced to a trickle. The sun beats down like a furnace, and there are few rain clouds in the sky.

Jetstream

New centers of heat and cold are being established. The result - larger polar caps, larger deserts. The cold is colder, the hot hotter. This year, the only parts of the country to get normal rain were the central Atlantic states and the Pacific northwest.

The jetstream over our heads, said to be responsible for bringing the rain, is forced elsewhere.

Special groups in America blame the Soviets for using Tesler Buck Rogers type techniques to stop the rain. They say that the USSR now controls the weather. It may be somewhat farfetched to believe that a nation unable to produce a good can-opener can make it rain or not as they choose. If they could perform this remarkable feat, why import so much American grain?

Aggravation

America used to be self sufficient, able to provide all her food needs and well able to weather drought years. This self sufficiency is now gone. The reason - bank policies.²

New York international banks lent large sums to foreign nations. To earn dollars to repay the loans the foreign nations pay their own farmers to increase farm production as much as they can. Increased subsidized production gluts the world markets forcing farm prices down.

Low cost foreign farm production undersells the American farmer. The American farmer bankrupts and is forced off the land. America's potential to produce food is drastically reduced while over 50% of American food must now be imported.

This allows foreign nations to earn dollars to pay interest to the American banks at the expense of the American farmer and the American public. This trade off, interest payments in exchange for bankrupting farmers and curtailing the American food production, will be fatal to millions of people if the drought continues.

Result Of Drought

The drought is world-wide. The media tell us that there are surpluses in the USSR, Argentina, and Australia, available to fill our and the world's needs, and that on top of that our own wheat stockpiles are sufficient to supply normal exports for several more years.

This appears doubtful. A faithful subscriber sent me a copy of the trade journal "Traffic World", dated June 27, 1988. It contained tables taken from the US Department of Agriculture, Office of Transportation.

They show that US grain carloadings to the Pacific coast ports are up 41% this year over last. The massive export shipments through the S. Atlantic & gulf ports are up 92%.

At the very time the drought has reduced American production 27%, according to official figures, the international grain dealers are shipping food out of the country by the trainload at a tremendously accelerated rate.

The total American grain reserves were expected to soon be reduced to the Strategic Reserve. If the government is telling us the truth this means that there is little food reserve left in the country except this Strategic Reserve which is supposed to be used only in case of war.

However, to count on this reserve to fill an emergency may be a false hope. Farmers have called me and said that the part of this stockpile they have personally seen may not be fit for human use. It was old, rat ridden, and some had gone bad. In other words, much of the reserve food may not be usable in an emergency. If this is so - there may be no lifeboat for a second drought year.

Preparation For Food Shortage

The lack of food is called FAMINE. It is a drastic word - not one to be used lightly. People die in famines. If they don't live on farms, have substantial garden plots, or have large food reserves stored, lots of people can die.

We don't want to be alarmist and jump at shadows. We don't want to be stupid either. If a famine arrives and we have made no preparations, we die. If we make preparations and there is no famine, well, we'll use up what we have set aside, and chalk it up to experience. Our long term costs will have been small.

To prepare for a worst case scenario in case nature continues its present course - put aside a year's supply of food. Our grandfathers always had a substantial supply of food on hand.

One has to eat anyway - why not buy a larger supply now, and use oldest first to keep it fresh.

This past week, subscribers have informed me that in west Texas and in parts of Ohio corn products and certain other foods are in short supply on store shelves. If the situation turns tight, food stores could empty overnight. Supermarkets carry only a 3 day supply.

The January #160 issue of this newsletter listed companies that produce non-hybrid seeds. Some are now defunct. I haven't had time to cull the list. However, non-hybrid seeds may be worth their weight in gold in the days ahead. Get the list, find the companies still in business, and get a supply.

Firearms! Just a reminder.

Clothing. Don't forget a hat, rain slicker, and good clodhoppers.

Transportation. Be ready to move where necessary on a moment's notice.

Confrontation

If things get very bad, we may expect the establishment to tell us that things are very good. Why? To keep us quiet while they take our grain for others. Once the cupboard is bare it makes little difference what we think or believe. We will have to deal with what will be left us - famine.

There is no way to soft-peddle this next; So here it is, in a nutshell:

If we do get back-to-back drought years - the entire world may be looking at famine. If there is not enough for everyone to eat - who then will eat?

The international grain merchants intend to supply their clients worldwide. Their profits are enormous. They could not care less about us. Will we be able to afford to have them take our grain to make their profits and let us starve? Will we be able to permit the long grain trains to rumble hundreds of miles across country to seaports and load them on ships to take to foreign lands at our expense?

What about the inner city denizens whom the establishment uses as their storm troops? Will we be expected to go hungry to feed them?

Conclusion

At this stage, the economic implication of a climate change combined with a food shortage cannot be fully envisioned. Is it possible that entire cities in our west may have to be vacated? This happened earlier to scores of cities in Iran when her weather changed. We are simply dealing with a situation beyond the ability of man to see.

However, just because we cannot fully envision the scope of the problem doesn't mean that we shouldn't do what we can to prepare for it.

At the Nebraska Farm Rally (#125) in February 1985, hundreds of farmers met to try to get someone to listen to them. One speaker asked God to send a leader - a Gideon - to lead. When the time is right he will appear.

In the meantime the rest of us, ready or not, may be forced to take the judgment seat. These judgments may be hard in the days ahead. For the sake of a profit, the future others may choose for us may result in famine and death.

Given two back to back drought years like the one we are going through - the question may be - who will eat? And what will you do to ensure that you do eat?

GLENN MILLER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Whatever happened to Glenn Miller of the Patriot Party of North Carolina?" S. K. - Montana

ED: While waiting for a George Washington on a white horse to save the nation I was suckered once more by a "flag-waving" "reverse-speaker".

At his trial Glenn Miller was revealed to be working for the government. His "flag waving" was a come-on to patriots. His patriotic speeches were "reverse-speak". The government wanted the names of establishment opponents. They used Glenn Miller to get them. It all came out in the trial. I have copies of FBI testimony that goes into detail about Miller's co-operation with them. It is no longer a mystery why it was so easy for Miller to be apprehended. We now know why he issued a call to arms without participating himself. Others were to bleed and fuel establishment propaganda against patriotic flag-wavers. He received government protection, and a new identity. Thank goodness North Carolinians refused to go along with him.

The FBI report says that Miller has a drinking problem. I found out that Miller also had no interest in God when I quizzed him by phone about a news announcement he had made.

Rules learned? 1. Never again trust a "flag-waving" leader who drinks (Drinking proves a man to be neither a good priest, king, or leader - according to law.) 2. Never trust a man who does not go by God's WORD. The laws are simple cut and dried. If a leader doesn't follow the ones we all understand, then he MUST follow his own, or those of the establishment. 3. Find out who pays the man's check. The man who puts the groceries on the table calls the tune. 4. Never judge a movement by the CAUSE. Great CAUSES can be put on or taken off like coats. No cause is better than its leader.

The establishment uses our discontent against us. He knows that millions of Americans feel betrayed, robbed, over-taxed, and disfranchised. To defuse this he finances organizations to mislead the disenchanted. The establishment is the real sponsor of many flag-waving and religious do-nothing patriotic veterans organizations, patriotic newsletters, patriotic religious leaders, and flag-waving politicians. The establishment has been at it a long time. But then, so have the faithful.

I am sorry about Glenn Miller. He could have been another George Washington.

CIRCUMCISION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Do you believe that the law requires 'circumcision'?" K. N. - California

ED: Circumcision became deeply ingrained during the occupation of Palestine by the Syrian-Greek-Arabs. The Syrian-Greek prohibition against it helped trigger the Maccabean Wars.

The occupying Syrian-Greeks killed newly circumcised boys along with their parents. The ancient book of Antiquities (perhaps the book least tampered with) states:

"God charged him (Abram), in order to keep his posterity unmixed with others, that they should be circumcised." Anti 1:10:5.

The Syrian-Arabs were a different race. They were not "adam". They were not "son-of-adam" or "son-of-man" (both mean the same thing). They couldn't blush red. Circumcision was done to constantly remind the conquered that "son-of-man" people were to stay to themselves alone.

The cream of the adamic race came to America during the persecutions of the 1600s. The ancient command was perpetuated here. 90% still practice it. 90% in Europe don't. Most in Europe are descendants of those who opposed the Law in the 1600s. Like breeds like. As long as there are adamic people in America who wish to keep to themselves circumcision is likely to continue.

Some say that circumcision supports "disfigurement" - which is forbidden.

The disfigurement of circumcision is not the same as the custom of cutting a digit from one's finger to memorialize a sorrow or a success. It is not the intentional scarring of one's face for the same reason. Circumcision is no more disfiguring than removing an appendix, extra and unneeded teeth, impacted molars, or a wart. Circumcised men do not get many bacteriological infections prevalent in lands where circumcism is not practiced.

CIRCUMCISION: "Dear Dick: On circumcision I have taken the view of the medical profession, which comes from Paul, who told the Galatians that they must stop following Jewish laws, particularly regarding circumcision." Dr. Edward York, Financial News Analysis, 152 W. Alta Green, Port Hueneme, CA 93041

ED: The only thing that I have found that has come down intact from the ancient days is the Law. "I have not come to change the law ... "The law forbids "adulteration". I have 10 typewritten pages, taken from the scriptures, of specific commands, statutes, and judgments forbidding the adulteration of the race of "son-of- man".

Circumcision was begun to keep "son-of- man" separate from those who weren't. Paul is used today to refute this, as he is improperly used to refute ALL law - "The Law is done away." This usage was not possible before 1825 because at that time our Bible contained the Apocrypha as it had since the Bible was put together by the early church fathers.

The Apocrypha comes down hard against association with non- adamic peoples. It used to be that the works of Paul, following the Apocrypha in the Bible, were interpreted in light of the older law-abiding Apocrypha. "Abolitionists" had no theological argument to justify mixing adamic with non-adamic peoples. Paul can be interpreted in a number of different ways. They needed Paul's help, unrestrained by the Apocrypha. The stripping of the Apocrypha from the Bible gave this help.

In an instant the history starting with the return from Babylonian captivity to the advent of Jesus almost completely vanished. Without the Apocrypha, Paul could be quoted without Apocryphal restrictions.

Notice how Paul is the one quoted and misquoted almost exclusively to substantiate unlawful acts. Paul, instead of Jesus who gave the Law in the beginning, has become God to many (present company excepted). When the law of Jesus comes under assault it is the quotes (misquotes) of Paul that lead the attack - especially the catch-all "the Law is done away".

Regardless of what Paul says, most adamic Americans will follow what they consider the requirements of the law in regard to circumcision.

Incidentally, as a boy I assisted my father, who was a surgeon, to perform circumcisions on mature men who because of poverty had not been circumcised as babies. They had become convinced, for whatever reason, that they should be circumcised. For a mature man to undergo this operation he has to be really convinced. These men were, and they came in a steady stream.

Chapter 168

SUSANNA

Alien Rulers & Their Gods

Alien rulers make demands not palatable to conquered subjects. They make demands which their god approves, or else they would not make them. To avoid punishment, conquered subjects do all in their power to humor the rulers and their god.

The demands, however, continue to come. To keep peace, concessions continue to be made. But nothing is ever enough. In time the ruler will demand something that his conquered subjects cannot do without being damned by their own god. Then, the hard choice must be made. Obey the alien's god or obey one's own God.

In ancient days our God was called God the WORD. He had 10 rules dealing with murder, theft, adultery, etc. Under these 10 rules were statutes and judgments. His people were expected to follow them. Then, as now, the disobedient used every argument not to obey. But, God's people esteemed it a privilege to obey.

The Apocrypha lists some of their stories. Following are three. The first is about Susanna. The elders, or priests, referred to in the story were the usual politically approved establishment types.

Susanna

"Jocam ... took a wife, whose name was Susanna ... a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.

"Jocam was a great rich man, and had a fair garden ...when the people departed ... Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. And ... two elders (who hid behind) saw her ... so that their lust was inflamed toward her. ... they were ashamed to declare their lust ... Yet they watched diligently ... to see her ...

"She was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot ... She said to her maids, Bring me oil ... and shut the garden doors, that I may wash ... when the maids were gone ... the two elders rose up ... saying, we are in love with thee; therefore ... lie with us. If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee ...

"Susanna sighed ... if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord ..." (History Of Susanna, from the Apocrypha)

(Read this yourself to discover the proper way to examine a witness in a court of law.)

Susanna was willing to obey God, refuse these two evil lying elders, and be put to death for adultery, rather than actually commit adultery.

The next story comes from the time of the Maccabees - the time to which I believe we have returned today. The land had been occupied by Alexander in his pursuit of the Persians. Greek generals ruled and Greek soldiers and their mixed arab-Syrian wives were the aristocracy. These rulers demanded the conquered peoples do what their own alien god approved.

As time went on the people began to resist. Small things became a test, much as "God save the King" became a life or death test to our own forefathers in the 1600s. One did what was demanded or died. The following is the story of a mother and her 7 sons.

The Mother & Her Seven Sons

"Seven brethren and their mother were taken and compelled by the king against the law to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with ... whips. One of them ... spake ... We are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers ...

"Then the king ... commanded ... to cut out the tongue ... and the outermost parts of his body ... he commanded him yet being alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in a pan (and this he did to each of the six brothers)...

"Whilst the youngest was yet alive (the king said that) he would make him both a rich and happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers ... But ... the young man would in no case harken unto him ... the king called the mother, and exhorted her that she would council the young man to save his life ...

"But, she ... spake ..., Fear not the tormentor, but being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren ... The young man said ... I will not obey the king ... but I will obey ... the law ... I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers ... and that by torments and plagues confess, that he alone is God: ...

"So this man died undefiled ... last ... the mother died." (II Maccabees 7:1-41)

But, there comes a time when a man, somewhere, refuses to do one more thing that will violate his God's law. He will not be content to be imprisoned and die there from maltreatment and mistreatment from other prisoners to show love for his God. When the establishment asks this man to turn against his God there will be an explosion. The next is the story of such a man.

Mattathias

"The king's officers, ... came into the city ... to make them sacrifice ... Then answered the king's officers, and said to Mattathias ... Thou art a ruler, and an honorable and great man in this city ... Now ... fulfill the king's commandment. ... and thou ... shall be honored with silver and gold ... Mattathias answered ... Though all the nations ... fall away every one from the religion of their fathers ... Yet will I and my sons .. walk in the covenant of our fathers. God forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances ... Mattathias ... was inflamed with zeal, ... therefore he ran and slew him upon the altar. Also the king's commissioner, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, ...

Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as Phinees did unto Zambri the son of Salom. And Mattathias cried ... Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow me. So he and his sons fled into the mountains, and left all that ever they had in the city." I Maccabees 1-27

This act of Mattathias and his sons started the Maccabean revolt. It continued until the false priests, and the strangers and their allies, were banished from the land.

These are three examples of people willing to give their all for their God.

The Law

Who is one's god? Is he tall or short? Does he have curly hair, a "godly look", and is he filled with "love"? What's his name? These words have no meaning. No living man has seen God.

A god is known by what he demands. Many gods allow their followers to do practically anything they like and proclaim "the law is done away with". Our God has given 10 commands and expects us to obey them. Jesus confirmed it again - "if you love me, OBEY."

The West is living on a powder keg. As in the day of Susanna, the Mother and her Seven Sons, and Mattathias, the law once more is being flaunted and violated.

Across the West live tens of millions of Law Christians who are as willing as their ancestors who ventured on the crusades to die for God's Law. It only remains a question of time until the establishment does as the Greeks did, and demands that one of the faithful do that which his God declares "unlawful". When they do - the answer will be - NO!

A Susanna will refuse and throw herself on the mercy of a corrupt court stacked with lying witnesses. A mother and her 7 sons will die one at a time, in a frying pan or in a prison at the mercy of savage inmates loosed on them. But a Mattathias will fight! and die like Mattathias and each of his sons died, one at a time. BUT, die in the process of destroying law breakers. The murderers, rapists, and homosexuals, and those who approved their acts, were punished when Mattathias and his sons, "the Maccabees", came down from the hills. The story says that Matthathias' last son lived to see the heathen and their lawless allies banished.

Those who believe that tomorrow will be the same as today are in for a rude awakening. There is only one standard that the faithful can live by - the 10 commandments.

The new god brought into our land is demanding that his alien laws be enforced. Open immigration, tribute to foreign nations, heavy taxes, forced busing, coddling communists, coddling criminals, corruption, favoritism, Hollywood morals, the Bakker/Swaggert establishment approved Samaritan Christian substitute religion, etc. This confronts the 10 commandments of our God. There is friction. Both laws can't rule at once. It is certain that a Mattathias will refuse. If the establishment does not stop him he will force everyone to choose. On that day this land will fragmentize.

It comes as a shock for the average citizen to realize that at this moment thousands of people are in prison in America for obeying a law that was lawful yesterday but today has been declared unlawful. Hundreds were jailed in Atlanta alone this past month. The month before hundreds more were jailed in New York. The establishment becomes more oppressive as it demands that its god be obeyed.

Summary

Another back-to-back drought year could create a food shortage. A food shortage could result in uncontrollable political conditions. People may opt for change if they come to believe that conditions will not get better and that they have nothing further to lose. Yesterday's Matthathias could be tomorrow's George Washington.

Tomorrow's investment decisions will be made in changing times. They will not be simple. Don't complicate matters by going into debt.

If events become unhinged, remember, that where your people are, your God lives. There, His law rules. You and your property will be safe. Only there.

AIDS UPDATE

GLOVES: "The medical staff at San Leandro's (Calif) Fairmont Hosp. recently conducted tests of gloves following the finding of defective gloves during a procedure on an AIDS infected patient. They blew the gloves up and held them under water. The results? 10% of nonsterile vinyl gloves and 35 % of nonsterile latex gloves leaked! ... many are now double-gloving on a routine basis." First AIDS Report, July, 1988, PO Box 2396, Vancouver, WA 98668

UNDETECTABLE: The AIDS virus hidden in body cells can remain undetectable by commonly used screening methods. This finding suggests that the virus is actually being carried by some who were declared free of the virus in commonly used tests. NY Times June 5, 1988.

KISSING: "AIDS transmission by kissing has occurred. A man ... permanently impotent ... contracted AIDS from blood transfusions. Now, his wife has AIDS and their only sexual activity was kissing." Letter, N. England Journal of Medicine, copied from Daily News Digest June 22, 1988

BANK LENDING: "Banks loan 80% of the money deposited with them." shrills a newsletter. Nonsense! Banks don't lend depositors' money. They create money out of thin air to lend. Depositors' money isn't needed for that purpose. Banks just keep deposits to comply with FR regulations. Deposit requirements can be raised or lowered at will by the big banks. This is how they bankrupt small banks and take over their accounts. They've been doing it for years

COOLER: "Virtually all of Florida, which used to be in Zone 9, now falls within the cooler Zone 8. The frost line is moving south. Growing seasons are getting shorter. Snow has fallen for the first time ever in southern Italy and Saudi Arabia." Focus #6, 1988, PO Box 236, Dresden, NY 14441

HATE: "Canada bans over 500 titles as 'hate propaganda' including 70 books, 150 audio and video cassettes and more than 270 newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets." Focus, #6, 1988, PO Box 236, Dresden, NY 14441

OLIVER NORTH, when told there were no ... 1st class seats on a flight from LA to DC, had flight attendants ... rearrange passenger seating to allow him and 2 bodyguards ... to sit with an empty row ahead and behind: one passenger ... remained in his seat. Flight attendants later privately congratulated the immovable passenger." Insight, 7/11/88

p6, copied from Daily News Digest 7/13/88

BLOCKBUSTING: "Hundreds of specially trained black, Hispanic and white couples will be sent by the federal government to pretend ... to buy ... homes... (to) spot blatant discrimination" News, Lynchburg, A3, April 11, 1988.

EDITOR: This is a billion dollar business. The WORD will not allow us to live among strangers lest we learn their ways. Blockbusting forces our people from their homes, and forces them to borrow money to build new houses. Billions in profits are generated for the usury bankers. This is why blockbusting statutes were passed. The Law will judge those who have abused our nation. They will be required to restore fourfold to those whom they have defrauded.

LETTERS

BORROWERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The 'economic potential' of immigrant beggars is tremendous and confirms what you wrote in your book. Brought into the country and put on welfare, each can handle $50,000 in loans. 'Open Borders' is big business for the banks - and hell for the American worker." Q. S. - Alaska

PRESIDENT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Which candidate should be promoted for president?" C - California

ED: In the case of the one:

"Thou shall... set him king over thee... from among thy brethren... thou mayest not set a stranger (zwer - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu. 17:15

In the case of the other:

"In those days went there out of Israel wicked men who persuaded many saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen." I Maccabees 1:11 "To the end that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances." I Maccabees 1:49

If one must choose between a stranger and one who violates the law - choose the latter. He may repent.

Chapter 169

MERCURY FILLINGS

A few months ago a subscriber called with an unusual story. He said that both he and his wife had been subject to poisoning from silver-mercury fillings in their teeth. His symptoms were those of muscular dystrophy and Alzheimer's Disease. His wife was subject to severe menstrual disorders. The problems had continued for years. Upon filling removal and replacement with ground glass fillings with a plastic binder on a Dropsin base, the symptoms disappeared.

The following article was copied from The KS Newsletter, Box 399, Pleasant View CO. It is a partial reprinting of a newsletter written by Dr. Tim Kersten, a practicing dentist from Burney, California.

"Patients are too dumb to make decisions concerning their own health!"

Believe it or not, this was the comment from another dentist to me while our office participated in the Redding Holistic Health Fair last week. Unfortunately, it is the attitude of many dentists in deciding whether to inform their patients that 40% to 60% of that 'silver' filling they want to place in your mouth is MERCURY.

One of our displays at the the health fair stated the following:

ARE MERCURY/SILVER AMALGAMS SAFE?

They contain:

MERCURY 40-60%

SILVER 15-37%

TIN 12-13%

COPPER 0-26%

ZINC 0-1%

The University of Tennessee Toxicology Center, which is considered to be the finest in the country, rated plutonium as the most toxic substance to man; it was rated at 1900+. Using the same scale, mercury was rated at 1600 and nickel at 600.

The Toxicology Center's mention of nickel brings up another dental dilemma. Nickel is currently used by the National Cancer Research Institute to induce cancer in lab animals. Rather tragically, about 80% of the Dental Profession are using nickel- based alloys for their porcelain overlaid crowns. Most toxic/allergic reactions to nickel do not show up in the mouth, but manifest in a disease process somewhere else in the body, i.e., kidneys.

On May 19, 1987, Sweden, after many years of extensive investigation and research, has declared that;

"Amalgam (mercury and silver) is from a toxicological view, an unacceptable dental filling material, which shall be discontinued when a suitable dental filling material has been developed. As a first step in the process to eliminate the use of amalgam in dental fillings, comprehensive amalgam work on pregnant women shall be stopped in order to prevent mercury damage to the fetus.'"

The American Dental Association publishes several warnings and precautions concerning the occupational hazards to dental personnel working with mercury-silver fillings. It states under no conditions should the mercury-silver filling material be touched or come in contact with the skin and that all scrap filling material must be stored under water in an air-tight, sealed container. Does that sound like a substance you would want in your mouth?

There are acceptable alternatives to the mercury/silver filling; ask your dentist about these and start now in minimizing your toxic exposure from this dental material. When old filling are removed, ask that a 'rubber dam' be used so that mercury/silver filling do not go down your throat. When the bacteria of the bowels comes in contact with the mercury/silver particles, there is a biochemical conversion from the inorganic mercury to an organic methyl or ethyl mercury, which is many times more toxic and can cause bowel and/or kidney dysfunction.

If you don't feel you are 'too dumb' to make your own decisions concerning your health, start now through education; after all, it's your health that is at stake."

The book "It's All In Your Head" by another dentist,¹ contains the following statement by the American Dental Association quoted from the JADA, Vol. 82, March 1971:

"Are amalgam fillings and their placement hazardous to the patient? The answer is an unqualified 'NO'.

1 It's All In Your Head, Dr. Hal A. Huggins, POB 2589, Colorado Springs, CO 80901

Study after study has shown that the patient undertakes no risk whatsoever with the amalgam filling."

Dr. Huggins' response to the above statement is: "It is interesting to note that there is no documentation to the 'study after study' claim. Efforts to find these studies proved fruitless. We contacted Dr. P. L. Fan of the ADA to request reprints of those studies. He said he would be happy to furnish them. A few days later we received one reprint (written before we were born) and a list of references that, in his words, 'clearly repudiate any apprehension about the safety of amalgam fillings.'" Pibid: p.159

"It's All In Your Head" contains a number of interesting case histories, as well as a large number of enlightening comments. Following are some of them taken out of context.

"'Chronic fatigue' is a result of insufficient oxygen to the cells. Mercury interferes with the ability of hemoglobin to transport oxygen. Slow healing is in part a result of zinc deficiency. Mercury interferes with zinc metabolism." p50. "'Most people who suffer from mercury toxicity are constantly fatigued. They sleep more than eight hours a night and wake up tired. ..." p.62.

"Electrical current is generated in metallic fillings in the mouth. The higher the electrical current, the faster the chemical reactions .. more mercury comes out of the fillings." p.67 "The suicidal patient is extremely friable in terms of reaction to electrical change." p.72. "The amount of electrical current generated by 'braces' is generally several times higher than that created by amalgam fillings." p107.

"People process thought differently with amalgams than they do after amalgam removal. They cope better." p.75. "Perhaps the greatest dietary source of mercury is canned tuna. This is followed closely by the shell fish like lobster and shrimp." p93. "Chemically the high copper amalgams emit mercury 50 times faster than conventional amalgams ... high copper amalgam is probably the most deadly." p103. "... nickel is used in over 90% of the crowns made. Overall use is over 85%." p106.... "gold and amalgam should not be in the mouth at the same time ..." p71. "Some of the worst reactions we have seen occurred where the patients had combinations of nickel, gold, and amalgam -". p107. "Dycal, the most often used base material, gives many people the same reaction as mercury does. ...Although it is not perfect either, we have found the best results overall with a base called Dropsin." p108.

Studies listed in his book on page 159 but evidently not referred to by the ADA include:

"Death Caused By Swallowing Large Amalgam Filling"
"Diseased Eyes and Amalgam Fillings" Mercurial Necrosis Resulting from Amalgam Fillings"
"Irritation of the Larynx Caused by an Amalgam Filling"
"Poisoning from ... Amalgam Plugs in the Teeth"

"Injurious Effects of Amalgam"
"Amalgam and Kindred Poisons"
"Amalgam Filling Causing Acid Taste"
"The Amalgam Fraud"
"Death From an Amalgam Plug"
"Acute Mania Attributed to an Amalgam Filling"
"The Poisonous Effects of Amalgam Fillings" etc.:

Conclusions

Before the recent rash of articles on mercury poisoning my knowledge of the subject was confined to the expression "mad as a hatter". This expression referred to "hatters" who cleaned the beaver hats of yesteryear and were subject to insanity brought on by being poisoned by the mercury they used in the cleaning process.

If mercury on a hatter's hands could cause mental instability, mercury in one's mouth could presumably do the same. One is left with the feeling that the subject of mercury poisoning may in time blow up into something really quite big. Perhaps bigger than the drug, tobacco, or even the AIDS controversy. After all, who doesn't have an ache or a pain and doesn't have a mercury filling they can blame it on. The combination is almost certain to bring lawsuits and have economic repercussions.

In time investors, instead of only lawyers, and the afflicted, may learn how to benefit from it

B B B

The ruling party in S. Africa is called the National Party. It poses as conservative. Its actions brand it "radical-left".

An opposition party, the Afrikaaner Resistance Movement (AWB), under the guidance of charismatic Eugene Terre'Blanche is rapidly overtaking the ruling National Party, according to opinion polls. However, the AWP offers nothing more than just "opposition". They have no new or long range plan to deal with problems in South Africa. They merely want to "stop" the ruling party.

The suspicion is that S. Africa's "establishment" may be funding the ruling party AND ALSO its opposition to control both, as is done in the United States.

A radical-right party has formed in S. Africa. It's name - "BBB". It's leader " Professor Johan Schabort.

Its purpose - to present ideas which it believes are purposely being ignored by present right wing parties.

Stripped of rhetoric, Schabort's platform calls for "repatriation". The removal of blacks from S. Africa.

Like it or not, THIS is a clear cut solution! Professor Shabort says that S. Africa is for Whites. They were there first and they mean to stay, and the rest of Africa is large enough for the blacks. In his words "We believe firmly that Blacks and Whites cannot share the same geographical area ... we believe in total separation."

This stand was shared by early American presidents who supported the African Colonization Movement. Marcus Garvey, the charismatic black leader of the largest "back to Africa" movement, had over 10 million dues paying black members in N. & S. America in his organization. He was jailed by the establishment in the 1920s in the effort to break up his group.

At the present time there is an organization called The League Of Peace Amendment Advocates, 1222 S. Glendale Ave. Suite 3, Glendale, CA 91205 1-818-247-2804, composed of black speakers who tour the U. S. drumming up support for a congressional bill to finance a "back to Africa" move by American blacks.

Peace comes when friction is removed. The right wing BBB is serving a useful purpose in S. Africa. It presents a litmus test issue. If the other parties are controlled, they won't acknowledge that the option exists - just as in the United States.

UNFILTERED NEWS

PRIVITAZATION S.AFRICA: "Electricity, oil, telecommunications, railways, airlines, television and many other basic industries are all in the hands of the state. Now the government (of S. Africa) has announced that it will begin turning these industries over to private enterprise." The Detroit News, 8A, February 22, 1988

ED: This is Botha's payment for establishment support. South Africa's industry will be turned over to the international bankers. Only they have unlimited funds to buy these industries. England, France, and Mexico did the same earlier. First the establishment confiscates (nationalizes) industries from their owners. Then they give (sell) them to the internationalists. "Privatization" is the biggest un-talked about scam in the world next to "blockbusting" and the "income- tax".

US SUPPORTS AFGHANISTAN: Soviet supporters in the US government provided Stinger ground to air missiles to Afghan Freedom Fighters only after it became obvious that 1) the Afghans were winning without them, 2) after drum fire Afghan complaints that the US government was providing no help, 3) to silence US critics world wide. Patriots point to lack of US help to anti-Communist freedom fighters in Poland, Angola, Nicaragua, Vietnam, Mozambique, and elsewhere as examples of communism at work in the US government.

MERCHANT FLEET of the US that formerly registered some 5,000 ships is now down to 97. State-supported foreign lines, including the USSR, are eating the US alive. Most of the industry could disappear within months - not years. From Traffic World, p. 13, October 26, 1987

ED: It's planned this way. Our country's agricultural system is being destroyed. Alaskan oil industry remains undeveloped resulting in absolute dependence on foreign oil that can be cut off in a day. Critical military equipment is manufactured abroad. The electronics industry is being ruined by imports. Basic industry is being moved wholesale out of the country. No anti-missile defense, no bomb shelters, no universal military training, a country swarming with hostile strangers, aided by a left-extremist congress, an anti-American media, AIDS plague-carriers are protected, its God held to ridicule, and now - no merchant fleet. This is a scenario of a nation being prepared for destruction. It's no accident. Our GOD is bringing the strangers against us. The survival of our country, our possessions, and our lives depends on our obedience.

US CHINA COZY: "In an unprecedented move, the State Dept ... approved export of US communications satellites to China. ... State Dept. spokesman ... said ...the US and China will cooperate to safeguard the technology from possible misuse or diversion." NY Post, p.10, Sept. 10, 1988.

CALIFORNIA PREDICTION: "California will have the the world's fifth-largest economy by the turn of the century. ... LA will be ... #1 population center ... California's trade with the Pacific Rim countries will exceed $100 billion.

Ethnic minorities will make up 1/2 of the state's population." DLJ, 140 Broadway, NY, NY 10005, p.5, Sep 2, 1988.

AGENTS PROVOCATEUR: "The Police Department today will start an anti-bias decoy operation in New York neighborhoods ... Cops in street clothes ... will spend time ... to await attacks by bigots ... For example, black decoys will work Howard Beach ... Hispanic decoys will work the Bronx ... Holmes insisted the decoys would not 'provoke' attacks ... " Daily News, NYC p. 21, Jan. 21, 1988.

ED: I'll bet! Once the "scare is on" they'll move in the billion dollar neighborhood blockbusters. The establishment is organized and good at this. Why not send "white" decoys to Harlem? or would that be provoking attacks?

SEDITION TRIAL: "As we have been gathering facts for our 'sedition trial documentary', we are discovering that the men of The Order, who were on trial, have been maligned. The individual who reported that these 4 members of The Order who were on trial were immoral and frequented brothels was not able to substantiate, or was not willing to substantiate, his accusations to us. The Order members on trial showed great courage, Christian conviction, and love for country and their God. It appears that they have been lied about and forgotten with most being afraid to speak out in their defense. While not endorsing the group or its actions, it needs to be said that those particular men, who are now painted as villains, may someday be described by historians as just the opposite once the truth is known."

"Dear Richard: Two questions:

Q1. I wish you could address real estate more thoroughly." C. W. - Washington

ED: The usury system has reduced real estate to a commodity. The dollar rises or falls at the whim of the establishment. The dollar fell from about 1971 until 1980. Real estate boomed. From 1980 to 1985 the dollar rose and farm values broke badly while urban real estate traded flat. From 1985 to early 1988 the dollar fell. Urban real estate almost doubled and farm values went up 10%+. Now the dollar has started to rise again. If history repeats, this should mean that urban real estate and farm values should weaken.

Q2. The bureaucracy is buzzing with problems of waste disposal. I have a feeling that there is an investment potential here.

ED: In Europe, waste disposal has been developed into a business. It's efficient and also EXPENSIVE. A cheap way of recycling is the road to riches.

RECYCLING: "Dear Dick: Before WWII our township disposed of garbage by putting the food products into containers and putting bacteria on top. It made the best fertilizer. No incinerators or anything." I. B. - New Jersey

EXCESSIVE DEBT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Another newsletter writer says that unlike W. Germany and England, the US and Japan have created excessive debt, therefore they must have higher interest rates to stop inflation. Please comment." F. B. - Colorado

ED: I don't know what "excessive debt" is. No one voluntarily goes into debt. Rising interest rates always stop people borrowing money into existence, stop rising stock markets, stop expanding economies, and cause depressions. I don't know of any exceptions. The question now is - how high must interest rates be to be high?

NAILING LIBERALS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: From a newspaper list of those having licenses to carry firearms, most appear to be liberals. These same liberals also oppose private ownership of guns for the rest of us. It would seem that this may be a foolproof test. If a man opposes private ownership of firearms while owning one himself - he is a liberal." J. M. - NY

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why the great outcry against S. Africa's 'Apartheid'? Every nation in Africa practices it, but S. Africa is the one blamed." G. M - Maryland

ED: Money. The world embargoed chrome from Rhodesia to force them to sell it to the USSR. The USSR marked it up and resold it to the West. Most of the switch took place in the S. African ports. This gave the USSR money to pay interest to Western banks.

S. African factories and mines are presently humming away. The "apartheid" embargo forces them to sell their output to the Israelis who mark it up for resale to the West. Much of the transfer takes place in the S. African ports. The Israeli nation gets the middle-man's money for its own needs. The Israeli owned S. African press supports President Botha in return. Practically the only customer S. Africa has for its products are the Israelis. Since prices are set by a single buyer the ones hurt are S. African workers. In effect, they are economic slaves to the Israeli nation. S. Africa must buy Israeli products in return. It's a sweetheart deal - DC, S. Africa, Tel- Aviv.

AIDS UPDATE

AIDS: "A Department of Correctional Services spokesman noted that the NY state will spend more than $18 million on prison AIDS patients in the coming year." NY Times, May 13, 1988

SWEDEN: "STOCKHOLM - Plans to hold ... carriers of the AIDS virus under lock and key ... in Stockholm ... have raised ... protests ... Two unrepentant prostitutes carrying the virus are already being held to prevent them spreading the disease ... The inmates would be held under the provisions of a law governing the spread of infectious diseases ..." SA Observer, Pretoria, S. Africa.

AIDS CONTAMANATED BLOOD: The California Supreme Court upheld a lower court order requiring medical officials to identify an AIDS infected donor in a lawsuit brought by a woman whose late husband was infected by contaminated blood in 1983. The order was issued in a negligence suit against the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank and the San Francisco Medical Society.

The woman in turn became infected by her husband and is dying. The suit requires the donor's identification so that he can be questioned about screening procedures in effect at the time.

Lawyers for the blood bank argued that identifying the donor would violate physician-patient privilege of confidentiality. The bloodbank spokesman said "We're quite worried that this will discourage people from donating blood."

The woman's attorney said "We feel the blood bank was negligent in screening blood - that it didn't do all it should have back in 1983 - and we need to question the donor about it. From a Los Angeles Times article of Wednesday March 16, 1988 part 1, 3.

Chapter 170

THE HOUSE

The James and its branches traverse the state from west to east. Lexington, Lynchburg, Richmond, Newports News¹, and Norfolk lie on its banks or the banks of its tributaries. South of the James is Southside Virginia. Business sometimes takes me there.

I passed a small plantation house of the sort that used to be so prevalent. It was built perhaps 1720 or so. Not big. Not really old. It had 3 dormers and needed a coat of paint.

¹ In 1607-1608, Captain Newport brought news from Britain. Often he couldn't sail up the James against prevailing westerlies, so he anchored. A boat was sent up to Jamestown with Captain Newport's news. His anchorage at the mouth of the James became known as Newport's News. It remained vacant farmland until WW I when a city was built there. Recently the name was changed to Newport News. Five

The striking thing was its cemetery close by. The house and cemetery went together. It was a big family cemetery. Nine generations were buried there. The same family had lived there generation after generation. The fathers, grandfathers, great grandfathers all the way back. Aunts, uncles, infant babies and sons killed in the wars. One fell at Gettysburg, another at the Wilderness, another at Petersburg. All were buried there. It was more than a house. It was home.

There were no cars next to the house and the fields weren't planted. But the driveway was well used and the house, too. The present owner must be working in Petersburg and driving 40 miles back and forth. At least he has managed to hang on to the place.

I envied that man. We all should. He is one of the very few who has salvaged what we all were promised.

My own family has nothing to show for 400 years. We came to Jamestown in 1615. The first of the name was Bartholomew, a boy aged 15. He was sent here so that if the rest of the family back in England were killed there would be a survivor. His father was a protestant minister to a Catholic King. A thing not conducive to longevity in that day.

Landing at Jamestown, he moved across Hampton Roads to Norfolk, then a land of trackless woods, not a city. From there, he moved to the Northern Neck and cleared a small plantation. This was confiscated when the King turned the whole Northern Neck over to one of his favorites. He was forced to move on.

In 1640 he sold land at Hoskins Creek, where Tappahannock is, to buy a plantation in Essex County. The Hoskins' took part in Bacon's Rebellion against a corrupt Royal Governor who objected to their defending themselves against hostile indians, thereby upsetting his lucrative private trade with them. The "rebel's" lands were confiscated and handed over to his favorites (which is the reason we have never gotten along with the "big house Byrds" on the James).

Our family moved on to the run-down Mount Pleasant plantation after the "war crimes" trials, executions, and confiscations were over. There they eked out a precarious living.

After 1692 the King set the usurers of the Bank of England on us. This set the stage for "good 'ole John Robinson's disaster" where he lent state tax receipts to private individuals. The borrowers were unable to pay back the loans since there was almost no money in circulation with which to pay. As a result, most of Virginia's farms and plantations were redistributed again. We hung on to Mount Pleasant because we didn't owe anything.

Robert Hoskins, a younger son, fought with the 1st Virginia Continental Line. His brother, John was one of the first over the top at Redoubt #10 at Yorktown.²

After the war he married a Byrd heiress and moved to the Byrd "Dragon" plantation.³ She was descended from the "little house" Byrds. They were called "little house" because their branch fought with Bacon and had their lands confis-

2 The 1st Virginia went over the killing fields at Gettysburg. The sons of The Blues, the Little Boy Blues, aged 10 to 15, repulsed Col. Dahlgren's attack on Richmond. The 1st Va. has long been known as the Richmond Light Infantry Blues. It has been continuously organized since 1687 and is today a National Guard Unit. My father served in The Blues. I followed in his footsteps as a youngster, from private to commissioned officer.

3 Heiress doesn't mean RICH. Usually it meant that a woman inherits from her father in the absence of a son. In this case a small plantation was given as a dowry.

cated. Consequently, they lived in little houses. Their wealthy Byrd cousins on the James supported the governor and got their confiscated lands and built "big" houses.

Our branch is known as the "Dragon" Hoskins because we lived on the Dragon. We lived there for more than a hundred years and put 4 generations in the Bird family cemetery. Byrd/Bird was spelled either way then.

The War Between The States ruined us. The plantation was looted time after time. There was virtually nothing left. Business was at a standstill. We left. The house is still standing - partially. The corporation that bought the land won't sell that part to us. They thought it amusing that I would try. They laughed.

Dr. William Hoskins moved to Carlton's Corner, King & Queen County, for a generation. The awful depression that lasted from 1865 to 1945 forced the family to move out of Tidewater altogether. A corporation now owns Carlton's Corner as well as the Dragon.

My father is buried in Culpeper in a Masonic cemetery with 5 generations of my mother's family. I live 120 miles away in a city called Lynchburg. I have no land. No home with my ancestors buried nearby. Neither do most of you. This is not right. It is not the way it is supposed to be.

This is the command of our God. It is what our grandfathers refused to do and what we will do in time to be obedient:

"Ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families: and the more ye shall have the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: Every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit. Num. 33:54

The land has never been divided. I don't want the 10,000 acres that Dr. William Hoskins eventually inherited from the Byrds. The negro legislators of the State of Virginia put such punishing taxes on the land that he was forced to sell it for almost nothing. Anyway, the only way 10,000 acres could be gotten together was through the distress of many smaller planters.

All I want is a hundred or two hundred acres, or whatever it will take to enable me to quit my job if I like and live there.

Once the land is equitably divided we are instructed that this land is never to be sold.

"The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

Old county courthouse clerks have told me that in the early days in Virginia the authorities discouraged land sales to try to comply with this law. They fixed it so one could not leave land by a will. It had to descend by a separate contract.

Many times, the oldest son received the lawful double portion. The daughter received a dowry, but no part of the land inheritance if there was a son. Her husband was expected to supply her needs.

Landless younger sons moved to the frontier and took up unclaimed land. That's why there are Hoskins in Kentucky and Ohio.⁴

Powerful strangers have moved in and are ruling "their way". We, the "people of the law", are forced to live in a lawless land. All restraints are loosening. America is coming unglued.

The Chinese words for "crisis" and "opportunity" are the same. Think on it - everything good that has ever come to us has come through crisis! As control loosens, the establishment is becoming more abusive in the attempt to hang on to privilege, wealth, power, and land.

This abuse makes more people angry and will be the establishment's downfall. One day we will have our land back. When we do we will have another opportunity to do it over again, and this time do it right:

"...ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families: and the more ye shall have the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: Every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit. Num. 33:54 and once divided:

"The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev. 25:23

One day, our descendants may have their own homes with their own family cemeteries close by; the thing promised by our God to us. The sacred land to pass down generation after generation. Land free from the establishment's tribute/taxes designed to take it from us. And, let us hope that our God gives us the opportunity to do this in our lifetime.

UNFILTERED NEWS

CHERNOBYL: "Chernobyl is still burning ... a terrific explosion ripped through the No. 4 reactor of the nuclear power station ... Seconds later another explosion threw out graphite blocks and fuel material ... 60 miles away is Kiev, .. the ground water of Kiev is filled with radioactive material ... The Dnieper River is carrying radioactive waste downward to the Black Sea.

"... a radioactive cloud rose half a mile high ... England kept 3 million lambs from the butcher shops ... The Lapps (lost) ... 60,000 reindeer ... Every pregnant woman within 20 miles of Chernobyl lost her baby. ... 30% of the land area of the Fertile Crescent is contaminated ... helicopters dumped more than 5000 tons of boron, dolomite, lead, sand and clay ... to smother the graphite fire ... this only insulates the reactor core ... its temperature went past 3000 degrees ... Radioactive emissions were at their highest ... Men burrowed beneath and shored up the foundation with concrete ... Since then many tons of concrete have been dumped on the site to cover it over but the reaction goes on and the ground underneath absorbs it and goes on down to the Dnieper River. It will go on for 1000 or more years." Al Henderson, talk at Junaluska, N.C., April 15, 1988.

ED: We can only imagine what this will do to this choice area of land settled so long ago by Vikings. This holds as well for the Black Sea, and in the long term, the Mediterranean. This is what happens when our nation is replaced by strangers. The world slowly turns into an open sewer when the keeper vanishes.

ISRAELI TORTURE: "Abu Leban ... a 19 year old Palestinian was interrogated and held incommunicado for 18 days under torture until he signed a confession. Defendants in the Israeli system are often not allowed to see their lawyer until AFTER they sign a confession, ... the lawyer may not get to see the client until just before the trial! Many ... are kept in jail for 6 months without trial ... This is democracy in Israel, supported by your tax dollars. Lubbock Avalanche Journal, Feb. 29, 1988 copied from Dickinson Newsletter, 5231 16th St., Lubbock, Texas 79416

S. AFRICAN INTEGRATION: "The disgraceful scenes on Durban's beaches (S. Africa) over Christmas and New Year, which were opened to blacks and Indians for the first time ... shocked the whites back to reality. ... incidents included copulation in public, defecating from parked vans and trucks, cooking fires on tarmac roads, washing laundry in the toilets, showers, and children's paddling pools, urinating on the lawns and flower beds, and widespread general misconduct. It was partly this shocking scene which led to the heavy defeat of the ruling party in the bi-elections. The signal was loud and clear." World Economic Review

ZUNDEL: Zundel ... German-Canadian dissident, was able to score in his second (freedom of speech) trial in Toronto. ... a 196 page report on findings at Auschwitz and Majdanek presented by American engineer and gas-chamber expert Fred Leuchter ...involved the journey of a five-man team ... to Poland, where rock and concrete samples were taken from alleged gas chambers ... and the samples submitted for analysis to an American laboratory. ... Mr. Leuchter summed up...:

" ... the evidence is overwhelming. There were no execution gas chambers at any of these locations. It is the best engineering opinion of this author that the alleged gas chambers at the inspected sites could not have been then, or now utilized ... as gas chambers."

The 4 original atrocity stories were; scalding death by superheated steam, burned to death in trenches, mass execution by shooting, and mass gassing. The first 3 stories were shown to be lies long ago. The last - the gassing lie, is now exposed for what it is. IHR Newsletter, 1822 1/2 Newport Blvd., Suite 191, Costa Mesa, Cal 92627, $50/yr.

ED: Witness after witness came forward to confirm that there were no gas chambers. The thousands of bodies found at the end of the war were what the Germans have always said that they were - typhus victims! The media scam claims that thousands of gassed inmates were cremated each day in furnaces which constantly "belched smoke". British and S. African recon planes took aerial photographs of the camp. I've seen copies of the pictures. There was no belching smoke. There was no smoke at all. This physical proof exposes one more lie. Constant lies. Lies, lies, lies. Forty years of lies. Lies against our own Christian kinsmen against whom the Law forbids us to raise our hand.

A hundred billion reparations dollars rides on this gas chamber atrocity story. We can count on the effort being made to keep the myth alive. The anti-Christ Holohoax scam to turn Christian against Christian needs a truth team to follow behind to debunk every instance of the 40 year old calumny.

EPISCOPAL BELIEFS: "Trenton, N.J. - Representatives of northern New Jersey's 125 Episcopal parishes voted Saturday to give their blessing to relationships between homosexuals and between unmarried couples. ...

"Newark's Episcopal bishop, John Spong, said ... 'I think we need to be more embracing of the pluralism of our times.'" News, Lynchburg, 1/31/88 A5.

ED: Jack Spong was pastor of St. John's here in Lynchburg. He was continuously at the center of controversy. Evidently, he has yet to learn that Christian law is different. Our law teaches:

"If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman ... they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13.

"Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way." De 27:18

"Take the prophets of Baal, let not one of them escape ..." 1 Ki 18:40

"Son of man (Heb: son of adam - he who blushes red), I have set thee a watchman ... if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way ... his blood will I require at thine hand." Eze 38:7-8

HISPANIC BIRTHS: "The National Center for Health Statistics ... found an 11% increase in the number of births to Hispanics between 1983 and 1985 ...the birth rate among non-hispanic women was up just 3%. Hispanic births accounted for 17% of all births in 1985 ..." WSJ, Aug 16, 1988, p.31

AIDS virus in bone marrow can infect cells even when it can't be detected in blood samples. A study by Anthony

Fauci, of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, shows that bone marrow can be an AIDS reservoir. From a news article in the NY Post of May 3, 1988

LEUKEMIA: A "particularly vicious" type of leukemia may be transmitted by blood transfusions. Red Cross experts recommend that donated blood be screened for this virus as soon as a test can be developed. The virus is called "human T-lymphotropic virus type I, or HTLV-1." NY Post, April 29, 1988.

ED: The Red Cross neanderthals are seeing to it that one still cannot use one's kinsmen as donors in emergencies but must use blood bank blood. Thus, they promote disease transmission by refusing to segregate blood and blood donors. The biggest public health menace in the US may be the Red Cross - not AIDS.

AIDS: The AIDS virus is said by George M. Shaw of the British Nature Journal, to mutate with a speed compared with influenza viruses, a factor which hampers the search for a cure. Some infected people have 27 different AIDS viruses. Another unknown is "Why people get infected on day one, but don't get sick for 10 years." WSJ, p. 24, August 4, 1988.

GOVT REGS: "The federal government will soon send ... letters to the ... major U. S. companies urging ... they apply the new federal guidelines on dealing with employees infected with the AIDS ... to take disciplinary action against workers who demand the dismissal of fellow employees infected with AIDS ..." US News & World Report, Aug. 22, 1988, p. 10.

VMI: "Dear Dad: Just a line to let you know that at the Virginia Military Institute in Lexington there is an empty room with a box containing hundreds of dollars in cash on a table. Cadets may order flowers for their dates. $15 each, by putting their name on a list. Those bringing in a $20, $50, or $100 bill make their own change unsupervised. Hundreds of cadets make their own change. There is never any money missing.

"Also: Cheating is punished by drumming out in the middle of the night in front of the massed cadets, and drinking is punished by expulsion. I thought you'd like to know." Your Son, Robert Byrd Hoskins - Virginia

ED: Thanks, Byrd. I know that. That's how it should be. Something else - my old school, Fishburne Military School in Waynesboro operated the same way 45 years ago. I don't know how it operates today, but I do know that it is one of only two fully credited junior ROTC military schools left in the country. There were 500 of them when I went there. A generation of boys is growing up that will blink at the sound of tank engines.

WAR CYCLES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Just read your book, War Cycles / Peace Cycles. It has changed my life. Unrealized by me my finances have been at extreme risk. You should include more information about Australia in your newsletter. We are your kinsmen, you know." B. N. - Australia

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Yesterday we mailed you our subscription. That evening we attended a meeting. Some there had read your book, War Cycles / Peace Cycles. They said it talked about a war to be fought in this country, but could not explain who was going to fight whom, or who will win!"

W. A. - Ohio

ED: Big topic for this short space. I'll let the book tell the story. You can get a copy from Virginia Publishing Company, P. O. Box 997, Lynchburg, Virginia 24505, $28/copy.

BANK TRUST: "Dear Dick: I was a long time subscriber but was forced to drop my subscription because all my funds, including pension funds, vanished from the bank where they were held. The president of the bank was sent to prison for 7 years, but he had declared bankruptcy for both himself and the bank, so there is no hope of recovery. We live on Social Security. Since I have no funds to invest, your back issues are treasured now only for your comments, historical perspectives, and notes about your family and ancestors." H. H., MD - California.

ED: I'm sorry. I wondered what had happened to you. One day I hope to collect and publish the stories of people ruined by the usury system through no fault of their own.

BANK TRUST: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I was left an inheritance in trust to be administered by a bank. Half the money is already gone. What should I do?" E. F. - Virginia

ED: Consult your lawyer. The trust may allow you to select another money manager in whom you have more confidence.

ATHEIST: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I thought I was an atheist. I hold most 'Christians' in contempt because of the many I have dealt with. As an 'atheist' I prided myself on telling the truth, and doing the things you say the 10 commandments require. I even keep the Sabbath. If God is the Word, and the 10 commandments are the expression of God, then I must be (ugh!) a Christian! If I'm a Christian, what are these sleazes that call themselves 'Christians' who go out and break the 10 commandments every day of the week?"

E. J. - Washington

ED: One's acts speak louder than his words. According to what you do you may be classified as a "Law" Christian. Both you and your Jesus, the personification of "The Word", are the enemy of the "Samaritan" Christians, those who are "saved by grace" to go and do whatever they like. You're no atheist. Your brand is THE brand and the ONLY brand. The West is loaded with people just like you and who sympathize with you. You know the rules and practice them. To heck with labels. You know what you are. Hang tough! Together we may see the day the sleazes will be tried by Law.

Chapter 171

BALANCED BUDGET RESULTS

The economic world is run by economic laws. Absolute, unchangeable, infallible laws. The Law dealing with money states:

"Thou shalt not lend upon usury (with interest upon a loan) to thy brother; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of anything that is lent upon usury: Unto a stranger (Heb: zwer - racial alien) thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deut 23:19,20

Those who violate this law, or acquiesce in its violation, trigger other laws which come into play.

If there is only $10 in the world, and "A" lends the $10 to "B" under condition that "B" repay "A" $11 - it can't be done. Eleven dollars do not exist - only $10. It is a fraudulent contract. The borrower was trapped from the instant he agreed to it. This usury contract is the basis of today's Western economic system.

The situation becomes repulsive as the borrower is forced to pledge his farm as collateral for repayment of the non-existent $11. It becomes more repugnant still when a SWAT team is sent in to shoot down the recalcitrant borrower as a lesson to other borrowers who might "welsh" on their legal but unlawful contracts.

The borrower, in desperation, may plead with the lender to somehow create an 11th dollar for him, and, from the goodness of his heart, give it to the poor borrower so that he will not lose his house, his farm, or his business.

To get that newly created 11th dollar, the borrower must sign a second contract. In this contract he must pledge his cow and his chickens.

The first 10/11 usury contract pledged the farm. To get the 11th dollar to fulfill the first contract he must make a second contract. He gets in deeper and deeper.

The usury game of 10 for 11 can continue as long as society has borrowers who have unmortgaged collateral. After society pledges all it has to pledge - the game is over. It can't continue. The lender forecloses. The foreclosure is called a crash. It's the age old game of USURY repeating once again. That's why it is the only type of economic system that is forbidden by our God.¹

¹ For over 1000 years our ancestors used the Tally System, an economic system similar to the no-interest system used by Arab nations today. See your Encyclopedia, or War Cycles/Peace Cycles.

Because the system was designed this way - at any one time there are far more IOUs coming due than there is money in existence with which to pay.

To entrap millions of victims in the net instead of only one, the system must grow. To grow, the supply of money must expand to allow debtors to obtain the 11th dollar.

Keynesian Economics

Usurers have three principal methods of increasing a nation's supply of money needed to extend the life of the usury cycle.

- 1) Decreasing Taxes
- 2) Monument Building
- 3) War

This is Keynesian Economics in a nutshell. Keynes didn't invent or approve the system, he just explained it, and it bears his name.

REDUCING TAXES - This gives an instant squirt of money. It can boost a faltering economy in an instant.

Taxes formerly paid into government coffers go to debtors who immediately spend the money. Borrowers have the 11th dollar. Business picks up. This is the quickest method to stimulate the economy.

MONUMENT BUILDING - This is the 2nd best method to get money into the economy and prime the pump. Today's name is - "public works".

Here in little Lynchburg, our city fathers, with encouragement from bankers "serving" on city council, have almost circled the city with a "badly needed" superhighway system. The finest money can buy. Cloverleafs, multi-million dollar bridges - the works!

Old Rivermont Bridge, the one that scores of the jobless jumped from during the '30s depression, was torn down. It was embarrassing because they almost didn't get it down because it was so well built. We now have a new bridge a few feet to one side of where the old one stood.

The same goes for all the other bridges. One new bridge crosses the James a few hundred yards upriver from another major highway bypass bridge. It goes nowhere. It merely rejoins the bypass a half mile further on. It took some talking to justify that one. "Had to build it though - the old one was falling down." This too is proving embarrassing as it is also proving difficult to demolish the old one.

Minorities have been presented with new or refurbished "badly needed" public housing - which was the excuse to borrow millions upon millions into existence.

The system is called Monument Building. It's effective. Every community has a variation.

WAR - This is the best method to get massive amounts of money borrowed into circulation.

People will not go into debt of their free will, and must be forced into debt. They will only borrow willingly to defend themselves and their families.

The usury system requires a perpetual enemy, one which requires billions to arm against. The system requires that America always be ready to fight for freedom! She must be ready to fight "evil" - Germany, Korea, or Vietnam, whomever.

The system also requires future enemies to be kept in the wings, enemies to fight in future years. The media is told to condition the population to think of "future enemies" as "aggressive" and "evil". Countries like S. Africa. When economic conditions require, we will be told that S. Africa will have to be fought to save the world for democracy, and it must be fought before that evil S. Africa can invade and put the United States to the torch!

There are all sorts of variations on this theme.

There you have it - the three methods the Usury System has of expanding the money supply. It's called - Keynesian Economics:

Lie #1 - Balanced Budget

"We must balance the budget or we will go into a depression."

If we balance the budget we WILL go into a depression. The government's deficit spending buys tanks, planes, and ships that will be obsolete and scrapped in 5 years and must then be replaced. The Soviet spy system in the US is tolerated because it helps the Soviets achieve parity. This gives us an excuse to arm to "catch up". Half of the Soviet equipment is an exact replica of ours. The same plans and specifications were used to build it. If they have difficulty with some of our hi- tech, we send engineers and computers to help. This is an absolute necessity if we expect to keep our economy rolling.

Deficit spending also finances the Israelis bashing the Arabs, buys icebreakers for whales, and provides aid to the starving Eskimos at the North Pole. The money spent filters down and allows debtors to pay the 11th dollar.

A balanced budget would shut off this spending. It would stop the 11th dollar from being borrowed into existence. Lenders would then foreclose borrowers. Instant Depression!

Lie #2 - Increasing Taxes

"Taxes must be raised to balance the budget to keep us out of a depression!"

If reducing taxes stimulates the economy, doing the opposite - raising taxes - will depress the economy. Using the Big Lie, black becomes white, white becomes black.

Taxes are increased to cause depression, not to help the economy expand.

Lie #3 - Falling Dollar

"The dollar is falling because our balance of payments is running a deficit."

If the US dollar were exchanged 10 cents (US) for 10 cents of a foreign currency, the dollar would not rise or fall.

The dollar falls when the international bank money-changers exchange 10 cents (US) for 9 cents in marks, pounds, or francs. It rises when they exchange 10 cents (US) for 11 cents in marks, pounds, or francs.

There is NO free market in currency exchange. If you wish to trade in the international market you must either exchange at the rates set by the international banks or you don't exchange at all. Take it or leave it. If you complain - the politician who is fool enough to listen to you will lose his next election.

A falling dollar serves a useful purpose. Foreign central banks, conspiring with U. S. money-changers, tell their people that something "must be done to stop the fall of the dollar" so that US goods won't underprice their own goods. They recommend to their country to buy American Dollars, thereby halting the dollar's fall. To do this they must borrow money into existence.

Then they exchange this newly borrowed money for dollars at the money-changer's price. This borrowing increases both the foreign money supply and the U. S. dollar supply. This creates good times until interest payments siphon this new money back into the banks once again. But, there is reprieve for a time, and that's the name of the game. Reprieve. For a time - inflation instead of deflation. Then the next money shortage crisis forces them to do it all over again to keep the ball rolling.

The talk about "supporting the dollar" is a lie. The idea is to keep the usury system alive a little longer by borrowing money into existence so that borrowers will have the 11th dollar.

Summary

TAXES - Borrowing money to pay taxes triggers this Law:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

MONUMENT BUILDING - A deficit forces the state to borrow money into existence to cover the deficit. It violates this Law:

"Owe no man but to love one another." Rom 13:8

WAR - This requires violating other laws:

"Ye shall not go up, nor fight against your brethren." I Kings 12:24; "I require you to abstain from shedding the blood of men." Antiquities 1:1:2 25J, Anti 1:3:8

A nation does not win by fighting God

Conclusion

PLAN #1

Budget deficits - Inflation

Lower Taxes - Inflation

War - Inflation

TO COPE: - buy gold, natural resources, land, houses, real-estate, common stocks.

PLAN #2

Balanced Budget - Depression

Higher Taxes - Depression

Lack of War - Depression

TO COPE: - hold cash/T-bills, government money market funds, bond funds, rent, short term leasing, shorts, puts.

Until we change the economic system back to the no-interest Tally System of our ancestors, one similar to that of the infidel Moslems, we must cope with the system as it now is to survive.

We can't read minds. We can read usury-bank monetary actions. Plan #1 or Plan #2? Do they REALLY intend to balance the budget? or is this just talk? Do they REALLY intend to raise taxes? or is this talk? Is the dollar REALLY falling? Is it inflation or deflation?

Our choice - observe carefully - and then go with the flow.

UNFILTERED NEWS

A confidential UN treaty is being negotiated making it an international crime to fail to fill out a government form. Penalties are to range from 20 years to life and possible confiscation of property owned. State Department negotiators also want tax rates and laws to be globally enforced with a global IRS. Some attorneys have said if a UN treaty violates the Bill of Rights, the UN document will take precedence. (Excerpted from The Virginia Taxpayer, Ken White, Ed., P.O.B. 663, Lynchburg, VA 24505, Nov 22, 1988.)

ED: "Federal Reserve Banks, including the capital stock and surplus therein and the income derived therefrom, shall be exempt from federal, state, and local taxation ... except from real estate." Cross Sections, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Vol. 3/Number 2, 701 E. Byrd Street, Richmond, VA Summer 1986.

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." Math 17:25-26.

To strangers - WE are strangers. We pay tribute. The king pays no tribute. They pay no tribute. They rule. They are king.

"Thou shall...set him king over thee...from among thy brethern...thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

BIRTH-CONTROL PILL users face twice the usual chance of heart disease. Women who stopped reverted to normal incidence of heart disease, according to the New England Journal of Medicine reported in the WSJ, p. 1, Nov 17, 1988

GERMANS RANSOMED: West Germany has asked Romania to increase markedly the number of GERMAN ROMANIANS allowed to emigrate. Romania charges "head money" for each German allowed to leave the country. Insight, 3600 NY Ave, NE, Washington, DC 20002. p. 39 Sept. 12, 1988.

ED: Country and nation have little in common. The Slav nation in the country of Romania is holding the German Saxon nation in that country for ransom in spite of their having lived there for more than 1000 years. The same is true in the USSR and Poland. The price of one of our kinsman in good physical condition runs in the neighborhood of $50,000. Women and children bring somewhat less.

BRIDGES: In America every two days a BRIDGE COLLAPSES. The Army Corps of Engineers claims that 3,000 dams in populated areas are unsafe. DLJ, 140 Broadway, NY, NY 10005, p6, Sep. 6, 1988

FOREIGNERS CONTROL $1.5 trillion of American resources, more than 16% of total US bank assets, more than $100 billion in US real estate, and more than 1/10 of America's $2 trillion national debt. DLJ, 140 Broadway, NY NY 10005 p6, Sep. 6, 1988.

"LINCOLN arranged for his son Robert Todd, even as draftboards conscripted tens of thousands ... that, after his graduation from Harvard in 1864, ...(he was) hidden away in the university's law school. By 1865, with the war winding down ... Lincoln wrote U.S. Grant in January: 'My son, now in his 22nd year ... wishes to see something of the war before it ends. I do not wish to put him in the ranks.' Grant replied that he'd be glad to put young Lincoln on his headquarters staff. In no time ... he was sporting union blues and captain's bars" R-Focus, Vol. 22, No 8, 1988 p.5., P. O. Box 1149, Temecula, CA 92390,

"ERNST ZUNDEL, who is under a judicial gag- order, recently circulated an anguished De Profundis excerpted here: 'The result of this judicially-imposed censorship is that, since I had been convicted (and sentenced to 9 months in jail-Ed.) for publishing the work of another author, I cannot now publish or speak about any subject addressed by that author or in his work ... about major events in 20th century history ... I cannot even defend my own reputation from the liars-for-hire when they chose to besmirch my character by alleging what my 'views' are. I cannot state my view even when the media hatemongers broadcast calumnies calculated to incite a lynch-mob mentality ... Every political hack can seek to garner votes at my expense, using me as a ... focal point for voter hysteria ... Because I say nothing, the uninformed public tends to think that the lies told must be true..." Michael A. Hoffman II, R-Focus, Vol. 22, No 8, 1988, p7, P. O. Box 1149, Temecula, CA 92390.

LETTERS

PLANTER/SHARECROPPER: "Dear Dick: My family's history parallels yours. After the War Between The States heavy taxes took the land. My mother's family went from Planter to SHARE CROPPER in one generation. Each time they seemed ready to rise again they were hit by another depression. Then the biggie came in the 1930's. After 90 years my father bought 90 acres. My family retained their manners and dignity. Everything else was gone. Because of this my family has had few comforts that many consider normal, but we owe nothing and we still hold the 90 acres." W.J. - Georgia

SALAZAR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Who besides you says that John Hoskins owned the ancestor of Kentucky's race horses, and if he did, what was he to you?" G.Z. - New York

ED: The Register of the Kentucky State Historical Society, 1917. He was my uncle several times removed, brother to Robert of the Dragon who served in the 1st Virginia Continental Line. See "Hoskins Salizar" on the internet.

HOSKINS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: My daughter sent me your newsletter. Most interesting. My FAMILY is also from Essex and King & Queen. What really interests me is your name. I went to William & Mary and there met the KA housemother, a Mrs. Cy Hoskins, the loveliest lady. She had a son - "Cy". Perhaps a relative of yours. This was back in '35." M.H. - Florida

ED: I know your family. I too went to W&M back in the '60s, the law school. My dad went to W&M too. The housemother was my aunt. "Cy" lived in Warrenton, NC with 12 hunting dogs. He was a widower. Married twice.

First wife didn't like dogs. He got one who did. Emma Lewis - a honey. Liked dogs better than he did. Cy was one of the best shots in NC. Emma Lewis was too. Every family should have a "Cy" - an Emma Lewis too.

NEBRASKA NUCLEAR WASTE: "Dear Dick: In Nebraska they are planning a nuclear waste dump. Today, unlike CHERNOBYL, our ground water level is below the planned level of waste burial and can't contaminate it. The authorities don't think of what will happen tomorrow when ground water rises to normal." Dee Kirk, Nebraska

P.S. How's your daughter after her accident with the .22?"

ED: My daughter has almost a yard of stitches concealed under her bathing suit, but has healed nicely. I took her shooting last weekend and she could hit a can with a .45 at 20 paces every time. She insisted on proving that she is up to it. Shooting skill is still important in spite of a mistake in handling a firearm. 400 years in Virginia has taught that lawful days are interludes between unlawful days. The change from one to the other comes as fast as a summer thundershower. To survive, a family must always be prepared. There is no time to develop the shooting skill in a crisis.

Dee is the widow of Art Kirk, one of the first farmers shot down by a SWAT TEAM. Her story is fascinating. I interviewed witnesses and wrote the story as told to me in issue #124.

BLACKS VA BEACH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Your last month's news item about what the BLACKS did in Durban, S. Africa is not really news. You should see what they did to Virginia Beach! Ten thousand black college students came here over Labor Day. It was S. Africa all over again here. Police in RIOT GEAR tried to protect the public, 9 blocks were roped off, stores were looted, copulation, defecation, urination in public. They had great fun and then went away leaving chaos in their wake. Those who encourage this sort of thing should be held accountable and given the same punishment as those committing the acts." E.G. - Virginia
